Board Agrees To Negotiate Smith's Job

School Administrator's Contract To Get Airing

By THERON A. NEWELL

Negotiations for renewing Supt. William J. J. Smith's contract as superintendent of the Novato Unified School District will be started next Tuesday at a regular school board meeting open to the public.

The board agreed on this last night after over two hours of hearing opinions from a crowd of 150 at the board meeting in the multi-purpose room of Marion school. Two factions were represented at the meeting.

The pro-Smith group, led by Samuel A. Hagler Jr., of 1522 Buchanan Street, chairman of the "Committee for Clear Thinking," presented petitions bearing 697 signatures asking for renewal of Smith's contract.

Harris Jackson of 5 Summers Avenue, neighbor of trustee William H. Kirk of 25 Summers Avenue, presented a petition backing the majority's position in accepting Smith's resignation. It carried about 20 signatures.

No show of hands was asked by the board, but the number of people applauding each side was divided about three-fourths for Smith and one-fourth for the board majority.

Smith's resignation was accepted by 3-to-2 vote of the board last week after a four and one-half hour closed meeting

A "committee for clear thinking," formed last Saturday at the home of Hugh Turner at 1470 Pastel Lane, circulated the petitions in favor of Smith.

In a letter to the board, the committee called for a written statement of board policy to prevent future misunderstandings.

The board's action in stalling on Smith's contract, accepting his resignation without firing him, and still expressing a desire to re-negotiate had "an air of mystery," said Turner, appearing personally to back up the letter.

"If Smith is not worth keeping, what's wrong with him?" Turner demanded.

Board Chairman Earl Marshall said the board questioned whether Smith was the man for the job.

A unanimous vote of the board in firing Smith or renewing his contract was asked by David Paul of 13 Joan Avenue. Paul said he disapproved of do-

30 Prisoners May Be Moved From Quentin

About 25 or 30 San Quentin prisoners, among almost 100 now isolated as "hoodlums," will probably be sent to other penal institutions before the end of the week, Warden Fred R. Dickson said today.

The recent outbreak of slayings at the prison, which left four men dead within 12 days, has caused a tightening of regulations throughout the prison, notably a closer check on grinders and tool sharpeners, Dickson said.

He estimated there were at least 70 such instruments in the prison machine shops and tool rooms. Some, he said, would be eliminated, others placed under lock and key.

"Of course, we know this will not solve the problem of making weapons," Dickson said. "After all, you can make a knife with a brick or a piece of cement."

Although no definite connection has been established, it is generally suspected that the wave of killings is linked with a dope smuggling ring operating at the prison.

Anna Marie Kellam, 25, one of three women suspected of taking part in the narcotics ring, yesterday pleaded guilty to conspiracy to smuggle narcotics into the prison.

Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori set Jan. 22 for sentencing.

Mrs. Kellam was allowed to remain free on $1,050 bail yesterday.

Two Volunteers Offer To Probe Railway Tunnel

Experts Could Estimate Cost Of Rebuilding

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The City of San Rafael last night found a couple of experts who are not only willing but eager to go inside the caved-in Puerto Suello railroad tunnel and make an informed estimate of what it would cost to rebuild.

The city council promptly and unanimously passed a motion to request the California Public Utilities Commission to obtain Northwestern Pacific Railroad's permission for engineers to enter the tunnel.

Since last July 22, when workmen removed the body of Alto fireman Frank Kinsler from the smouldering cave-in through a hole in Lincoln Avenue, no one has been inside the 1,500-foot tunnel. The NWP reportedly has told the PUC it has no intention of sending its own engineers in.

ONLY ONES

"Up to now," J. P. Hawke told the city council last night," Mr. Jacobs and I are the only ones who have asked to go in."

"Mr. Jacobs" is J. Donovan Jacobs of Greenbrae, who heads the worldwide engineering firm of Jacobs and Associates (parent company of the San Rafael firm of Oglesby, Jacobs and Wickham).

Hawke heads the associated —and equally worldwide—economic survey firm of J. P. Hawke and Associates. He spoke for both of them last night, Jacobs being away in Seattle—on a tunnel investigation.

TWO POINTS

He proposed that the twin firms make (1) an engineering survey of the cost of rebuilding or replacing the tunnel, including inside investigation of the tunnel itself; and (2) economic surveys of the effect on both the railroad and Marin County of permanently abandoning the line, which NWP has proposed in an application to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

He estimated the engineering survey, billed on a man-hours basis, would cost $4,000 to $5,000; the economic survey, no more and probably considerably less.

This was like a day-late Christmas present to the council, which last week heard polite turn-downs from two east-

Driver Dies As Seven Vehicles Pile Up North Of San Rafael

Highway 101 Accident Injures Four Others

A Sonoma painter died instantly in the course of a chain-reaction crash north of San Rafael yesterday involving seven vehicles and causing injury of four others.

One of the injured was held today in the Marin County Jail.

Killed was Carl Frank Bolin, 53, member of Painters Local 83 in San Rafael, employed by Happy Homes in Mill Valley.

Beryld Heiney, of Santa Rosa, the man held, is a hospital corpsman first class aboard the McMorris at Long Beach. He was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for a deep scalp cut and scalp laceration, handed over to military police to be taken to Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco, but later lodged in the county jail pending action by the California Highway Patrol.

Others hurt were:

James W. Stinchcomb Jr., 27, of 30 Meadow Drive, Mill Valley, maintenance worker for Dixie School District; treated at San Rafael General Hospital for face cuts and injured back and transferred to Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco where his condition was good today.

19th DEATH

Chui Man Tsue, 54, of San Francisco, cook at Marin County Hospital in Lucas Valley; chest injuries, broken right leg and teeth knocked out; in good condition today at San Rafael General Hospital.

Jean Marie Jones, receptionist at 115 H Lane, Novato, cuts and bruises for which she said she would see her own doctor.

Death of Bolin was the 19th Marin County highway fatality of this year, compared with 26 at this time last year.

Investigation of the complex events was still under way by the highway patrol today. So snarled were the cars that the patrol was unable even to determine the direction in which Bolin was traveling.

HIGH SPEED

Several witnesses agreed that Heiney had been going south at high speed.

Bolin is believed to have been traveling south also. His sedan seemed to have been hit on the left side by the Heiney car, causing it to spin in front of a Dixie School District truck being driven south by Stinchcomb. The truck hit the Bolin car almost head-on.

In hospital late yesterday, Stinchcomb told Dixie District

PUERTO SUELLO TRAFFIC LANE TO BE ADDED

The California Division of Highways plans to immediately add another traffic lane to reduce congestion and danger on Puerto Suello Hill, which yesterday claimed the life of a motorist in a five-car smashup.

Mayor John F. McInnis announced at last night's San Rafael City Council meeting that the division, at urging of the City of San Rafael, has agreed to start work "right after Jan. 1" to provide a third northbound lane where traffic from San Rafael pours onto the highway.

This will involve reducing the center strip and widening the paving.

Behr Again Demands Pay Equity Check

Analysis of the 120 county salary inequities reported by the county administrator last year, on only 25 of which county supervisors took action, will be given to the supervisors next week, Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell promised yesterday.

The issue arose after Supervisor Peter Behr for the second time held up action on salaries of elected county department heads.

Chairman William D. Fusselman said "we took care of approximately 200 last year" and insisted that "there has been no tendency not to see people properly paid." But Behr countered, "My information leads me to believe there are still inequities that should be corrected." Mitchell tacitly confirmed this.

Told that he'd not reported fully, Mitchell dug up a neglected letter he sent the board last Sept. 28 in which he had recommended review of the administrator's inequity list of June 8.

This letter said there was a surplus of "at least $16,000" which could go toward correcting the inequities. Mitchell said the surplus has now grown to $39,000.

Supervisor George Ludy pleaded for quick action on pay of elected officials because "they will be frozen at present salaries otherwise — there is nothing we can do to raise them during four years."

Secret Space Equipment Is Stolen

PALO ALTO (AP) — Theft of space research equipment, dealing with the reentry of missiles into the earth's atmosphere, was under investigation here today.

Some of the stolen equipment belonged to the U.S. government.

Robert Wesley Higgins, an executive of one of the two companies whose plants were burglarized on Christmas Day, valued the stolen property at between $7,000 and $10,000.

He said it included such instruments as an optical pyrometer, used to measure the intense heats which missiles would encounter on reentry. Other equipment taken included movie equipment, a vacuum tube voltmeter, a telescope, and welding machinery.

Higgins said his company, Vidya, Inc., and Itek Corp., East Palo Alto, were under contract to do secret research for larger companies developing and building missiles.

Hospital Administrator For County Is Backed

Two Marin County supervisors who visited the Humboldt County Community Hospital last week recommend immediate employment of a hospital administrator for Marin County.

Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell presented a letter as the supervisors were about to adjourn yesterday and it was not discussed. But it put Supervisors William Gnoss and George Ludy, who made the trip with Mitchell, on record as joining in recommending an administrator, and added:

"Both Supervisors Gnoss and Ludy seem to favor construction of a new (Marin) facility at Lucas Valley."

This, said Mitchell, was as compared with quitting the "nursing home business" or building adjacent to Marin General Hospital.

If an administrator were hired now, the two feel that he could make his own recommendations to the board and supervise construction planning, said Mitchell.

The letter also conveyed a Gnoss-Ludy sentiment that the architectural firm of Crawford and Banning should be asked to plan a smaller nursing home than originally designed. With this saving, construction could be on a pay-as-you-go basis in one year or two, it was suggested.

Ludy evidently agreed with this report on his views and Gnoss was ill with influenza resulting, Ludy said, from the trip. Mitchell also had a touch.

The 100-bed home at Eureka was highly praised, its operating cost quoted at $9 to $11 per bed per day, not including amortization; its cost set at $27.34 per square foot, and cost per bed $7,627.

Transit Plan Rejection Postponed

Marin County supervisors' expected rejection of rapid transit plans excluding this county was postponed yesterday to Jan. 2 because Supervisor William Gnoss was absent due to illness.

"Mr. Gnoss should be here because of his request that the rapid transit district survey a possible line as far as Novato," said Chairman William D. Fusselman.

County Counsel E. Warren McGuire said the board had 15 days in which to act. He felt some action should be taken in spite of assurance yesterday morning that the rapid transit board had withdrawn its "final" plans and that there was nothing before the Marin supervisors.

"There's nothing in the act to show they have power to withdraw their report," said McGuire.

J. Julien Baget, Novato city administrator, confirmed that Novato wants to be considered if rapid transit eventually comes to Marin County.

President Completes Budget Work; Doctor Reports His Back Is Strong

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President John F. Kennedy has completed work on the budget for the next fiscal year and it will be balanced, administration officials said today.

No figures were disclosed, but speculation on its size has been in the area of $92 billion dollars, about three billion dollars above the current year.

After visiting his ailing father, former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, this forenoon, the president returned to the seaside mansion where he is staying. There he received a checkup on his back by a New York orthopedic specialist, Dr. Preston Wade, and the regular White House physician, Dr. Janet Travell.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said the doctors reported the back is stronger than last summer, but it will be several months before Kennedy can resume vigorous physical activity.

Kennedy took a cruise aboard the presidential yacht Honey Fitz after the back examination.

Later, he planned another long conference with key advisers on the State of the Union message to Congress in January.

The president received word from the doctors attending the elder Kennedy that their patient had made progress in throwing off a mild pneumonia which developed after he suffered a stroke Dec. 19.

The president, accompanied by Mrs. Kennedy, drove himself to St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach to visit his father. They spent 25 minutes there. A Secret Service agent took over the driver's seat of the cream-colored convertible when they left.

Mrs. Sargent Shriver, Mrs. Peter Lawford and Mrs. Stephen Smith, sisters of the president's, also visited the elder Kennedy.

The back examination had been described by Salinger in advance as routine. He said Kennedy had had no recent trouble with his back which he hurt last year while shoveling dirt at a tree-planting ceremony.

Salinger reported the president has been taking a daily swim since his arrival here. There is a heated outdoor pool at the estate of Col. and Mrs. C. Michael Paul, where he is staying.

COUNTY GETS GIFT OF RED VOLKSWAGEN

Marin County got a 1960 red convertible Volkswagen yesterday as post-Christmas present. It had radio, heater and only 13,000 miles "on the clock."

Morton Kirsch of San Francisco offered it to Welfare Director Betty L. Presley as a donation to the Child Welfare Services Trust Fund, and offered to help find a buyer.

Sole conditions were that he get a receipt for verified blue-book valuation of $1,500 before Jan. 1 evidently with tax write-off in mind.

The supervisors unanimously voted to accept with thanks.

Pope John Masses

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Vatican said today that Pope John XXIII dedicated three Christmas Day masses to three of his fondest ambitions: The universal church and the human family; the cause of peace and the peaceful development of new nations, and the success of the forthcoming ecumenical council.

Anthropologist Urges Bomb Shelters For Newlyweds

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Anthropologist Margaret Mead urges bomb proof shelters for the world's newlyweds—to assure continuance of the human race in the event of nuclear war.

Doctor Mead, of the American Museum of Natural History, offered the suggestion in a talk to the 128th meeting of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science yesterday.

"Let the United States propose," she suggested, "that the United Nations be asked to debate the feasibility of an internationally financed shelter system in which a cross-section of the most productive and highly motivated members of every country on every continent could be saved.

"Let us propose a program in which each country is assisted to build a blast-proof shelter sufficient to accommodate all of the people married in that country during a two week period and that during the first six months after marriage they spend two weeks in the shelter."

Addressing a special symposium on "Problems of Survival," Dr. Mead said such a shelter system for newlyweds would enable the survival of a group that "would be the most highly motivated to try to continue their lives together and to reproduce themselves."

"They would be," she said, "the stuff of which young immigrants are made, and they would be immigrating—if there were to be an allout nuclear war—into a world that no man has ever known."

Seymour Melman, an associate professor of industrial and management engineering at Columbia University, told the symposium: "In-so-far as American industry operates by means of a finely integrated division of labor, the fire effect alone of a modest-sized nuclear attack would render this society no longer viable as a significant production center of the world."

He said that if the 65 major industrial centers of the country were each hit by 20-megaton bombs, the immediate effect from "fire storms" would be to reduce the United States to a third-rate industrial nation.

$65 MILLION

Empire State Building Sold

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI) — New York City's Empire State Building changed hands today in a deal so complicated it required two weeks of rehearsal.

The sale, for 65 million dollars, of the world's tallest structure took place on the 24th floor of the Prudential Plaza Building, one of the tallest buildings in Newark.

A huge conference table, covered with documents, was surrounded by brokers, attorneys, accountants and the building's owners and sellers. In a precise order, the papers were signed and shuffled. Each participant knew his role because eight dry-runs were conducted.

The Prudential Insurance Co. of America ended up owner of the 102-story building at Fifth Avenue, between 33rd and 34th streets in Manhattan.

But real estate operator Lawrence Wien of New York, who conceived the transaction, holds a 30-year lease which will be renewable for another 84 years.

The Wien group will pay rent to Prudential for the building and collect rent from its tenants. The Empire State, when fully occupied, has 25,000 of them.

A syndicate headed by Chicago financier Col. Henry J. Crown owned the building.

Wien is paying Crown 65 million dollars. Prudential is buying the title from Wien for 29 million dollars. Wien's leasing rights are worth 36 million dollars.

Prudential already owns the land under the building. It purchased it for 17 million dollars in 1951. Prudential, as part of the deal, has promised to spend 3.75 million dollars over the next few years on improvements—chiefly completion of air conditioning and the installation of self-service elevators.

Wien's group will pay $3,220,000 rent each year for the next 30 years, $1,840,000 rent from 1992 to 2013 and $1,610,000 yearly from 2014 to 2076.

The building earns about 12.6 million dollars a year for its owners. This comes from tenants, from the million persons a year who pay to visit the observation roof and from television stations, which use the Empire State's tower to transmit signals.

The building's 1,250 feet were augmented in 1950 by the construction of a 222 foot television tower.

The Empire State was completed on May 1, 1931—in the depths of the depression—on the site of the old Waldorf-Astoria hotel at a cost of 40.9 million dollars.

Operators Of Quickie Divorces Face Raids

CUERNAVACA, Mexico (AP)—Morelos state officials are conducting one of their almost annual crackdowns on quickie divorce operators around this central Mexican resort.

Four members of a band charged with faking mail-order divorces were arrested last week. The leader is still being sought.

The group operated from small villages near Cuernavaca and reportedly kept two sets of books—one for clients and one for official inspection.

The majority of the couples obtaining such divorces are foreigners, principally from California. But couples from Italy, France, Spain, Argentina, Brazil, Chile and other countries are also involved.

Just how many is not known.

Cuernavaca at one time was Mexico's most popular divorce center but action by state officials in the past 10 years has shifted activities to Ciudad Juarez, across from El Paso, Tex.

One late count estimated that Ciudad Juarez now grinds out about 10,000 divorces annually. Cuernavaca's count has sagged sharply.

One case that helped touch off the latest crackdown invovled Italian singer Katyna Ranieri. She obtained a divorce in 1956 from Eduardo Sternini and married Italian film director Riziero Ortolani. A judge in a small town near here said his name had been forged to the divorce papers. To be on the safe side, Miss Ranieri got a second divorce in Ciudad Juarez.

Others who obtained divorces here include dime-store heiress Barbara Hutton, actresses Denise Darcel, Faye Emerson and Myrna Loy.

Australian Scares Shark By Shouting

BRISBANE, Australia (UPI)—A 20-year-old Australian soldier scared off a shark yesterday by shouting and blowing air bubbles at it underwater.

John Hyland said he was about 400 yards off shore and "I remembered from a book that sharks were supposed to be scared if you shouted at them. So I took a deep breath and dived straight at it. I blew out air, made bubbles and screamed as loud as I could. Then I turned and swam as fast as possible for shore. I don't know what happened to the shark."

His companion, Noel Moore, said he saw the shark's shadow just under Hyland's body and thought his friend had been dragged under until he saw the soldier flailing his arms and legs, headed for shore.

Britain Fears New Flareup In Kuwait

By RONALD THOMSON

LONDON (AP) — Fearful of a new Iraqi move against the tiny sheikdom of Kuwait, Britain alerted troops and an aircraft carrier last night for possible duty in the Middle East.

The Defense Ministry announced 300 servicemen, most of them transport aircraft crewmen, were put on the alert, and troops were reported standing by to be flown from Nairobi, Kenya, if needed.

A spokesman said the carrier Centaur was ready to sail for the Middle East on eight hours notice from Mombasa, Kenya. The announcement emphasized, however, that the measures were precautionary and that the ministry did not believe military operations to be imminent.

Informed sources said the government is concerned over intelligence reports of renewed threats by Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem to annex oil-rich Kuwait, where Britain landed troops last July at the request of Sheik Abdullah As-Salim As-Sabah after Kassem renewed his country's claim to the little neighboring territory.

Britain is bound by treaty to protect the sheikdom on the northern end of the Persian Gulf. Kuwait was a British protectorate until last June. British forces withdrew from Kuwait in September after Arab League countries, despite Iraq's objections, sent 2,000 troops to Kuwait to protect it.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Collapse In Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — A scheduled peace meeting between the three princes of Laos broke up in failure today and brought the country closer to resumption of civil war.

After a 30-minute preliminary session that brought together Communist-backed Prince Souphanouvong, Neutralist Princes Souvanna Phouma and pro-Western Premier Prince Boun Oum plans for a coalition government seemed to have collapsed.

"I have nothing more to tell them," Boun Oum said afterwards.

He added that the agreement to attempt negotiation of a coalition regime, reached in a previous conference in Zurich, Switzerland, no longer is valid.

Children Returned

OAKLAND (UPI) — The three children of Mrs. Jacqueline Hensell were returned to her from protective custody yesterday after a hearing by Alameda County Superior Judge Allen G. Norris.

The children were taken from Mrs. Hensell, 32, of Newark, after her husband, Alfred, 37, was hospitalized with arsenic poisoning.

It had been alleged that the children suffered poisoning in the past and that traces of arsenic were found in the body of a Hensell child who died in Oregon six years ago.

No criminal charges were filed against Mrs. Hensell.

Fire Victim Critical

SAN BERNARDINO (UPI) — A woman who braved flames at least twice to help rescue her eight children and invalid husband was in critical condition today. Hospital attendants said two of the children, Donna, 6, and Cynthia, 8, as well as the husband, Elmer Starry, 30, also were critical.

All eight children survived the pre-dawn fire yesterday in the Starry home in Fontana thanks to Mrs. Rosemary Starry, 30, and fireman Fred West who broke into a small bedroom to carry Donna and Cynthia to safety.

Train Wreck Kills One

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — One person was killed and at least 35 others injured last night when an elevated train rammed a station platform. Four of the five cars were derailed, teetering against a thin iron railing 35 feet above a busy West Philadelphia intersection.

Short circuits lit up the area with electrical flashes for 15 minutes following the accident at the Philadelphia Transportation Co.'s York and Dauphin Streets station.

The dead man was identified as Earl Giberson, 45, Philadelphia.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A second Negro has been approved for admission to a white school here. Like the first, he is a son of an official of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

The county board voted last night to permit the transfer of Robert W. Saunders Jr., a second graders.

BERLIN (AP)—The U.S. Army today moved another infantry company along the Soviet-controlled autobahn to West Germany.

The U.S. command reported that Co. D of the 6th Infantry's 2nd Battle Group cleared through Soviet controls at the Babelsberg checkpoint outside Berlin and headed west on the 110-mile trip through Communist territory.

Mrs. Wilson Ailing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is gravely ill with a respiratory infection and complications, her physician says.

The doctor said yesterday the 89-year-old widow of the former president, has been ill for three weeks. He said her condition grew worse several days ago but now is slightly improved.

Mrs. Wilson is at her Washington home where she and the president moved after he left the White House in 1921.

PG&E Plans

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Norman R. Sutherland, president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., said today the firm will spend 211 million dollars for new construction in 1962.

This will include completion of 532,500 kilowatts of new electric generating capacity, Sutherland said. The addition would bring the total capacity of the company to 6.5 million kilowatts Sutherland added that another 1.33 million kilowatts capacity will be under construction through 1962, including three new construction starts.

More Cold In South

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fresh surge of icy air spread across snow-covered regions in the northern Midwest today and freezing weather hit areas in northern Florida for the third straight morning.

Temperatures moderated in southern Florida after two days of unseasonable cold, with the mercury dropping to below freezing south of Miami yesterday. It was 60 in Miami early today compared to yesterday's low of 42, a record for the date, and 65 in Key West.

Inventor Dies

BOSTON (AP) — Reinhold Rudenberg, 78, noted electrical engineer who invented the electron microscope, died yesterday after a brief illness. He retired from Harvard University in 1952.

Fort Lewis, Wash., one of the largest training centers in the Sixth Army area, was almost entirely a gift to the government. The citizens of Pierce County voted in 1917 to purchase 70,000 acres of property and donate it to the government with the provision that a military base be established on the site.

Egypt, Yemen Break Up Federation

CAIRO (AP) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser's domain is back where it started — confined to Egypt — following severance of the loose federation that joined the little Arabian Peninsula kingdom of Yemen to the United Arab Republic.

Nasser broke the tie with Yemen last night, apparently because of the opposition of Yemen's feudal ruler, the Iman Ahmed, to Nasser's accelerating program to convert the UAR to socialism.

Yemeni exiles in Beirut predicted the break with Nasser might touch off a revolution in their homeland that would unseat the iman, one of the world's last absolute monarchs.

The two countries had been linked in the United Arab States, a loose federation formed a month after the proclamation of the UAR joining Egypt and Syria in 1958.

Syria broke out of the UAR last September, but Nasser's government retained the name that symbolizes Nasser's thwarted dream of a unified Arab world.

The statement announcing the break with Yemen said the two governments had nothing in common "to make the federation between them an effective political instrument able to contribute positively in strengthening the Arab struggle."

In posing as the symbol of the new wave in the Middle East, Nasser could hardly afford to remain tied to the feudal Red Sea monarch, who published a poem attacking Nasser's Arab socialism after the break with Syria.

The association between Nasser and the iman— theoretically co-presidents in the UAR—never approached the working relationship that Nasser had with Syria. It was a limited association in defense, cultural and economic affairs. The UAR bore most of the cost.

RUSS U.S. ENVOY REPLACEMENT DUE

Amiable Ambassador Apparently Is Getting Successor Next Week

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mikhail (Smiling Mike) Menshikov, Russia's amiable ambassador to the United States since 1958, apparently will be replaced next week.

Sources said today his successor will be Anatoli Dobrynin, a 42-year-old career diplomat who is now head of the American section of the Russian foreign ministry in Moscow.

There was no immediate official confirmation of the shift.

Menshikov, whose arrival ended a long string of glum, furtive-looking ambassadors from Russia, will leave Washington Jan. 2, at the end of his term, sources said. He is reported to have arranged a reception Friday night to say good-bye to the Washington diplomatic corps.

Dobrynin is said to be energetic and, since he is a good deal younger than the 59-year-old Menshikov, possibly better equipped to deal with the new fronties. He was a counselor in the Soviet embassy here in 1952 and 1953, and has worked in the United Nations secretariat. He has the command of English necessary for the post, it was understood.

Menshikov took over here from Georgi N. Zaroubin in 1958 and broke a 20-year run of mysterious, brooding Stalinist ambassadors who spoke little or no English, seldom called at the State Department and practically never appeared in public.

But Menshikov made numerous, often unannounced calls on U.S. officials, always bearing a broad smile. He speaks excellent English.

He has appeared often on television and made a number of speeches.

The tall, greying diplomat showed his difference from his predecessors at the big embassy celebration in 1958, when he refused to be photographed in the usual spot—under a picture of Josef Stalin.

"It's not a good background," he explained.

Menshikov even went to the extent of wishing the American people a happy new year this month, although he did not mention Christmas.

Barnaby Conrad, Wife Separate

Writer Barnaby Conrad, who fought in bull rings in Mexico, Spain and Peru, said last night he and his wife, the former Dale Cowgill, had separated.

Conrad, 39, said he expected the separation would end in divorce. The couple have three children.

Among Conrad's books are "Encyclopedia of Bullfighting" and "The Death of Manolete."

The Conrads' home is at 18 Leeward Road, Belvedere. Conrad said he has moved into his Telegraph Hill studio in San Francisco.

Blithedale Work To Be Expedited

Planning consultant Robert Cornish told Mill Valley planning commissioners last night that he plans to expedite work on the East Blithedale Avenue official plan line in the area nearest Lytton Square because of proposed construction there.

Cornish said the plan line, which designates where the roadbed of the proposed four lanes from Highway 101 to Lytton Square would lie, can get under way upon his receiving photo mapping of the road stretch.

He said construction of a professional building has been proposed in the 100 block of East Blithedale by Robert G. Cruikshank of Mill Valley.

The commission set a hearin for Jan. 23 on a proposal by Lenherr Brothers that a lot at 22 Hill Street be rezoned from professional-administrative to residential. Normally the rezoning is from a light density to a heavier one but this is the reverse.

Recommended to the city council was rezoning of 17.85 acres in the Cushing Avenue-Greenwood Way area from 20,000, 60,000 and 100,000-foot lot sizes to 40,000 square foot lot sizes. Subdivision of the property, in which Dr. J. Alfred Rider of 208 Corte Madera Avenue has controlling interest, was recommended to be in four parcels.

PETITIONS ASK FREEWAY BE MOVED

The Novato Chamber of Commerce today started circulating petitions to get the proposed Freeway 101 moved east of town.

Petitions will be placed in stores throughout the business district, with store owners asked to obtain signatures.

San Rafael Canal Dredging Plan Is Agreed Upon By City Council

An agreement with the Army Corps of Engineers covering dredging of San Rafael Canal was approved unanimously by the San Rafael City Council last night, after it received an opinion from the city attorney that its terms were proper.

City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw added one clause to the agreement's provision holding the Army Engineers not liable for damage to canalside property —"in the absence of negligence." No one, he said, could waive liability through negligence.

The agreement specifies also that the city will provide spoils areas for dumping of materials dredged from the canal. City Manager Dan E. Andersen said two owners of property along the canal already had set aside such areas and built dikes, at no cost to the city.

Attorney Roderick P. Martinelli appeared on behalf of L. E. Weisenburg Jr. and Robert Green, East San Rafael developers, to urge that the city public works department suggest to the Army Engineers that the channel dredging be kept as far as possible from lots which in some places extend near the canal freeway line.

Mayor John F. McInnis replied that the Army Engineers "are probably more conscious of the danger of damage to private property than anyone else." He said the city's engineering department will work with the Army Engineers on the plan "as the proper way to go about it."

Mayor McInnis and Councilman Fred E. Jensen said the Army Engineers probably would have abandoned dredging of the canal had it not been for a trip to Washington by City Manager Andersen and the assistance of the San Francisco Marine Exchange.

Weisenburg's letter to Col. John A. Morrison, Army district engineers, raising objections to the dredging plan "almost upset the apple cart," said the Mayor. The Army Engineers cancelled one bid call, but plan to issue another next month.

The council adopted unanimously a resolution embodying a new pay scale with 2½ per cent increases for city employees, and unanimously approved steps up the salary scale under the old schedule which had been put in effect by City Clerk W. L. Morgan in the past six months in the absence of council action.

Public Works Director Norris Rawles reported the California Division of Highways wants details of how the city proposes to handle traffic from east-west off-ramps from the new Irwin Street interchange if the ramps are included in freeway design. He said the plans probably will call for a street development project running to $400,000 or more—which, however, the city will not have to undertake if the proposed cross-country highway is routed via San Rafael.

The council directed that Rawles expedite the data sought by the division of highways.

A. F. Cadet Promotion

William Delano Sherman, son of Edgar J. Sherman of 164 Oak Knoll Drive, San Anselmo, has been promoted from cadet airman second class to cadet airman first class in the Air Force ROTC at Princeton University, Princeton, N.J. Sherman is a member of the drill team and the Arnold Air Society of his detachment.

Dimes March Chairmen Appointed

Mrs. Walter B. Johnson of San Anselmo will head the countywide mothers' march of the March of Dimes next month, county chairman William B. Wolfson announced today.

Wolfson also announced appointment of Eric Wilkinson as San Rafael community chairman for the March of Dimes, and Mrs. Byron Trott as San Rafael mothers' march chairman.

The 1962 March of Dimes will get underway next Tuesday and conclude on Jan. 31.

The annual Sabella's Dinner, scheduled for Jan. 29, will be handled by Mrs. Paul Hartman of San Rafael, assisted by Mrs. Peter Fitzhugh of Ross. Richard Secrest of Novato will be in charge of special events throughout the county, and Don Miller of Novato will be responsible for the March of Dimes Ball, slated for Jan. 13.

Treasurer of the campaign will be Don Swing of San Rafael. Publicity will be directed by Jules Becker and Dorothy Snyker of Ross.

Other community chairmen include Mrs. William Carpenter, Novato; Mrs. Tess Houston, Mill Valley; Mr. and Mrs. James Alberigi, Point Reyes Station; Fred Banducci and Louis Malvino, Larkspur-Corte Madera, Kenneth W. Burt, San Geronimo Valley; Mrs. Loretta Feeley, Santa Venetia; Mrs. Jody Becker, Ross; Lt. Clifford L. Rogers, San Quentin; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lacaze, Stinson Beach; Maj. Marvin S. Pitts, Hamilton Air Force Base; Maj. N. J. O'Donnell, Fort Baker; Paul Mendelsohn, Greenbrae; Mrs. Daniel Rochelle, Marin City; Harvey Zion and William Maier, San Anselmo; Albert Gately, Fairfax, and Col. William Wright, 666th Radar Squadron.

Wolfson also named three area mothers' march chairmen: Mrs. Cliff Cox of Black Point in North Marin; Mrs. Don Chapman of Kent Woodlands, in the Ross Valley, and Mrs. David R. Baty of Point Reyes Station in West Marin.

Pam Stettler To Wed Sunday

Pamela Ray Stettler, San Rafael beauty who was formerly "Miss Marin," "Miss California" and almost "Miss U.S.A.," yesterday took out a marriage license with James Dennis Costello of San Rafael.

Miss Stettler, 18, and her fiance, also 18, both of whom told the county court clerk they were students, will be married at Trinity Lutheran Church in San Rafael on Sunday.

Both Miss Stettler and Costello graduated from San Rafael High School. She is the daughter of Mrs. Frances V. West of 8 Loma Linda Road. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Costello of 417 First Street.

STATE CALLS FOR BIDS ON AUBURN UNDERPASS

The California Department of Public Works yesterday called for bids for reconstructing the Auburn Street underpass of Highway 101 just south of San Rafael and providing an extension of Woodland Avenue for an under-highway connection at the underpass.

Bids will be opened Jan. 31 in Sacramento. A total of $100,000 in state highway funds is available for the project, the department announced.

Harry Albert Gives Council Some Advice

A lone San Rafael citizen appeared at last night's city council meeting to express appreciation to the council for the work it has done in 1961.

He was Harry Albert, perhaps the largest owner of downtown property in the city and himself a former city councilman.

To his expression of appreciation, Albert added a word of advice.

If the council should decide to use the E Street School property as a city hall location, he suggested, "don't make the same mistake as with the county courthouse, where the commercial area is divided." He urged that a 100-foot strip fronting Fourth Street be made commercial "so we'll have a continuity of commerce." Parking could be provided underneath, he suggested.

The council promised to keep his advice in mind. A report on city hall needs, including a site survey, is to be presented by Ebasco Services of Palo Alto at the council's Jan. 15 meeting.

Commented Mayor John F. McInnis: "It's real nice to have one citizen who comes in and says 'thank you.'"

State Public Works Chief To Report On Bridge Hump

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Robert B. Bradford, state director of Public Works, said he would give a full report in about three days concerning what, if anything, can be done about the Bay Bridge's traffic delaying construction hump.

Bradford yesterday inspected the steel ramp that gives the bridge's Yerba Buena tunnel area upper deck an abrupt 15-inch rise. He had been ordered to make the inspection by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who took the action in the wake of an outcry by newspapers and commuters over hump-caused traffic jams.

Bradford consulted with State Engineer Norman C. Raab, who is in charge of giving the bridge's upper deck a lower and new surface.

Raab said he felt optimistic that contractor Charles Harney's crews would meet the promised July, 1962, deadline for completion of the job.

Raab said the hump would be lowered gradually as work progresses. It has already come down an inch.

Popular Vote Hub City Mayor Report Tonight

A city attorney's report on what the City of San Anselmo would have to do to have the mayor elected as such by popular vote and to remove the city treasurer and city clerk from the list of elective offices is scheduled for the San Anselmo City Council meeting at 8 o'clock tonight.

The council will hear from Dan E. Anderson, San Rafael city manager, a presentation of why San Rafael seeks the Hub City's support in opposing abandonment of the portion of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad's main line between Ignacio and San Rafael. Railroad representatives gave their case to the council two weeks ago.

Bids will be opened on a new pickup truck for the fire department. City Administrator Douglas Flautt will ask permission to buy a government surplus pickup truck for the public works department.

The council will consider a planning commission proposal that planting of magnolia trees in planter pots on downtown sidewalks be abandoned in favor of planting in the earth, with holes cut in sidewalks.

Candlelight Concerts Are Planned Again

The first of the second annual series of candlelight concerts will be held Friday at 8:30 p.m. in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

These musical evenings were started last year by Homestead Valley residents and the Homestead Valley Improvement Club. Their atmosphere of informality will be continued.

Three concerts of chamber music will be presented again by the group of musicians from the San Francisco Symphony known as the "Bach to Mozart" Players.

The audience is seated cabaret style at candle-lighted tables, with refreshments available during intermission and before and after the concert. The price of admission is kept nominal so that the whole family can attend.

Friday night's concert will be an all-Mozart program: Clarinet Quintet in A Major, K581; Divertimento No. 11 in D Major, K251; and the entire Cassation in B Flat Major, K99. Musicians participating include Everett O'Bannon and Cicely Edmunds, violins; Helen Stross, cello; Frealon Bibbins, clarinet; Raymond Duste, oboe; Ross Taylor, horn, and Milton Nadeil, double bass.

Tickets may be purchased by phoning Mrs. Robert Weill or Mrs. Lowell Hawk, or at the door.

Other concerts in the series are scheduled for Jan. 27 and Feb. 23.

Jewel Theft Hearing Set

Robert Byron Webb of San Francisco, one of two men suspected of lifting about $3,500 in jewelry from a showcase at a San Rafael jewelry store in November, will plead in Municipal Court next Tuesday.

His suspected accomplice, John Arthur Mitchell, 21, also of San Francisco has pleaded innocent and will have a preliminary hearing Jan. 4.

Webb and Mitchell are accused of entering Michael A. Gorb Credit Jewelers at 1115 Fourth Street and stealing the jewelry while the shop attendant's attention was distracted. Mitchell was arrested in a San Francisco parking lot on Nov. 24 as he was "fencing" about $2,000 worth of the jewelry. Webb was picked up by Oakland police during a narcotics check on Dec. 18.

Mill Valley Woman Is Dragged By Car

Dolores Meyer, 46, of Mill Valley was treated for scrapes and bruises on legs and arms at Marin General Hospital after she was dragged by her car while parking at East Blithedale and Sycamore Avenues at 6:30 a.m. today.

Mrs. Meyer, who lives at 4 Rainbow Lane, said she thought the car's automatic shift was in park when it was in reverse. She got out and the car started to roll, knocking her down and dragging her across East Blithedale Avenue.

Art Work Being Shown At Mill Valley Gallery

Art works being shown at the Gallery in Mill Valley through January include paintings of Henry Rasmusen of Mill Valley, sculptures by David Lemon of Belvedere and drawings by Jarvis Rockwell of San Francisco, son of Norman Rockwell.

The Gallery is at 17 Madrona and is open from noon to midnight.

FIRE CHIEF IKE — As Mrs. Eisenhower and his grandchildren looked on, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower took over the Disneyland fire engine during a visit yesterday. Ike seemed to have as much fun as the children. (AP Wirephoto)

Assembly Unit Will Visit Net Depot

Tiburon naval net depot will be one of the spots visited in the bay area tomorrow by a California Assembly subcommittee in search of a site for a federal research project on water pollution.

Assemblyman Charles Meyers of San Francisco, chairman, said the visit will be made in the morning by helicopter.

Meyers said Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera) is much interested in locating the facility dealing with bay and water pollution at Tiburon. Miller, who is in Washington, has been invited on the field trip as well as Senators Thomas H. Kuchel and Clair Engle. However, none of the three has confirmed he will be able to be present.

Terra Linda Might Keep Old Fire Truck As Well As New

Three members of the Terra Linda Community Services District board last night indicated they would reconsider a recent decision to sell the district's fire truck on purchase of a new one.

"In my mind this problem is not closed. I hope the board will see fit to reopen the issue," said Dr. Michael J. Franzblau, board president. "I think it would be unfair to take action tonight with only three of us present."

Absent were commissioners Melvin Warenback and Richard Less.

The board opened and took under consideration two bids for addition of a fire house stall, addition of living quarters, and re-wiring of the fire house.

Following last week's special meeting, at which a majority of the board agreed to sell the existing truck in about six months when a new $23,288 one is bought, it was generally understood that bids for the fire house enlargement would not be opened inasmuch as the expansion would not be needed.

Bids from Sabraw Brothers of San Rafael at $11,750 and E. Bridges Construction Co. of Novato at $12,635 were to be turned over to the district architect, Jesper C. Strandgaard. (The bids on individual items were: Sabraw Brothers, engine stall, $4,617; living quarters, $5,264; wiring, $1,869. E. Bridges, engine stall, $4,773; living quarters, $5,662; wiring, $1,600.)

The decision to reconsider sale of the truck followed a report by fire commissioner Richard Flaherty, protests by about a half-dozen residents (at least three of them volunteer firemen) and presentation of a petition bearing 38 signatures opposing sale of the second truck.

Franzblau said a decision would probably be reached on all matters on Jan. 9.

Flaherty concluded his routine report with the plea that the board (1) take immediate steps to add living quarters to the firehouse, and (2) hire an additional fireman to insure 24-hour protection.

The fire commissioner, who is also fire chief, said the second truck had been recommended by the Board of Fire Underwriters and told board members they had been invited to visit the offices of the underwriters in San Francisco so they could be shown the rating system.

"They (the underwriters) feel it is not in the best interests of the community to operate with only one truck," Flaherty told the board.

Presenting the petition was Walter Zeeb of 614 Wakerobin Lane, who also was the author of a letter to the board which criticized "one of the board members" for referring to volunteer firemen at meetings as "henchmen" and indicating that he had no confidence in them.

Commissioner Duckett said he was certain Zeeb was referring to a recent conversation they had and that Zeeb had misunderstood him. "I said that we had only two professional fire fighters," Duckett said, "I think they are doing a good job."

Carl Ringchop, a member of the department, said past boards had charged the firemen with "loading a meeting" when they showed up 20 strong.

"I would like to see better cooperation between the board and the fire department," Duckett said. "I would like to come to your drills."

"You are even welcome to join the department," Flaherty said.

Palsy Victim Scholarship Program Told

Details of the college scholarship program offered by United Cerebral Palsy of Marin were announced today by Max R. Kaplan of Novato, second vice president and scholarship chairman.

The scholarships are part of the program sponsored by the local chapter of United Cerebral Palsy to aid local victims. The annual "53-minute March on Cerebral Palsy" to raise funds for support of this program is scheduled for Jan. 15 under chairmanship of Ben Barton of Terra Linda, with Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos as honorary chairman.

Instead of two $500 scholarships as previously planned, one for this amount and two for $250 each will be offered starting with the 1962 fall semester, Kaplan said. All will be available for study at San Francisco State College.

Requirements include meeting college admission standards and residence in Marin for at least a year. First consideration will be given to students with cerebral palsy, who may apply for the grant for their freshman year or thereafter. Other applicants must be graduate students.

Further information and application forms will be available from Dean Donald R. Gerth, San Francisco State College, San Francisco 27.

Molest Case Hearing Set

James Baird Jr., 42-year-old former Marin County deputy sheriff who has pleaded innocent to molesting a 9-year-old Novato girl and a 12-year-old Mill Valley girl, will be given a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court on Jan. 28.

Baird was initially charged with two counts of molesting the 9-year-old daughter of a fellow deputy. When he appeared in court to enter a plea on Dec. 13, a third charge of molesting the other girl was placed against him. He pleaded not guilty to all three counts.

The hearing, set for yesterday, was postponed by Judge Harold J. Haley.

Landscape Contract

Watkin and Sibbald of San Anselmo was awarded a $61,316.40 contract by the California Department of Public Works yesterday for landscaping at the Richards Boulevard interchange on U.S. Highway 40 at Davis. The project includes planting 485 trees, 2,652 shrubs and 42,000 periwinkle plants.

FUN FOR ALL

Eisenhowers Take In Disneyland Delights

ANAHEIM (UPI) — Grandpa Ike took the kids to the amusement park yesterday and he seemed to have almost as much fun as the youngsters.

Grandpa, otherwise known as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, and Grandma Mamie beamed as their four grandchildren sampled the delights of Disneyland.

Ike and Mamie enjoyed a ride on the Santa Fe-Disneyland Railroad train, a boat trip through a make-believe jungle, a voyage on the Mark Twain riverboat, and tours of Frontierland and Nature's Wonderland.

The old folks took a breather in the afternoon when they found the pace of the youngsters a little fast. General and Mrs. Eisenhower rested for an hour in a lounge at the Disneyland City Hall while the kids went on a few more strenuous rides.

The former chief executive was applauded frequently as he toured the park. A youngster waved at him with the "V" for victory sign and he responded by making the same sign.

"Oh, I love it," said Ike at one point when he was asked if he was enjoying himself.

On the train trip, he sighted the Mississippi stern-wheeler and he nudged his wife and said, "Oh boy, Mamie, look at that."

He and Mamie watched with interest while the grandchildren rode on "The Autopia"—gasoline-powered midget automobiles.

He smiled and waved as his grandson, David, 13, drove by.

The other grandchildren in the party were: Barbara Anne, 12; Susan Elaine, 10; and Mary Jean, 6. Their parents, Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, and Barbara Eisenhower, were also in the party.

Theft Ring Trial Feb. 27 For Suspected Policeman

Suspended San Rafael policeman Arthur M. Newman, 34, accused of masterminding a series of burglaries while he was a police officer, will go on trial on charges of conspiracy, burglary and robbery on Feb. 27.

At that time, he will be tried with Robert W. Cory, 25, San Francisco truck driver accused of being an accomplice.

Yesterday Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori also took under consideration a prosecution motion that a second trial of Newman be consolidated with that of another suspected accomplice, Robert Harris Miller, 37, San Francisco refrigeration firm employee.

A decision on the motion for a combined trial with Miller will be given on Tuesday.

Another suspect in the burglary ring, Fred W. Sullins, 21, former bouncer in a San Francisco night club, pleaded guilty to the charges last week after being told by the district attorney a county jail term would be recommended instead of prison.

Sullins will be sentenced on Jan. 8 Newman, Cory and Miller have pleaded innocent to the charges.

Army Reserves Again Offer 6-Month Tours

Beginning Jan. 3, men aged 17 through 21 will be accepted for enlistment for six months active duty with the Army Reserve, it was announced today.

Since September, enlistments in the six-month program have been limited to those below the age of 20 to facilitate buildup of the active Army following the Berlin crisis.

The increase in age limit will not reduce the manpower available for the draft since Selective Service is not calling men under the age of 22.

Under present regulations, a reservist who is assigned to a reserve unit is not eligible to be recalled to active duty as an individual, but can only be called to active duty if his unit is called.

'DESPERADO' DIES—Al Jennings, pint-sized badman of the Oklahoma Territory who claimed he robbed 15 or 20 trains, died quietly yesterday in his Tarzana home at 98. (AP Wirephoto)

WITH BOOTS OFF

Self-Styled Bantam Badman Dies At 98

TARZANA, Los Angeles County (AP) — Alfonso Jackson (Al) Jennings, train robber, ex-convict, lawyer, lecturer, evangelist, politician, movie celebrity and chicken rancher who hated killing chickens, is dead at 98.

The self-styled bantam badman from the Oklahoma badlands died yesterday with his boots off in his tree-shaded white frame house.

His nephew, Tillman V. Eggleston, said Al had been despondent since the recent death of his wife Maude, 81, and "was suffering the illnesses of old age."

Despite Jennings' death, the controversy he created still lives.

Was he really a desperado of the Jesse James or Dalton gang caliber? Or was tiny Al, only a lick and a spit over five feet tall, just a onetime loser, a luckless train robber, who cashed in on a legend he embroidered for naive movie folks in later years?

Al said he was once a horse thief and declared: "Some of the finest men I ever knew were horse thieves." He also claimed he killed more men than he could count — all in self-defense.

But author Stuart Lake, Western scholar and biographer of Wyatt Earp, says with a bit of scorn: "There's no record of Al ever killing anyone."

Al said he was a feared outlaw and train robber in the 1890s, terrorizing a score of trains in Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas and Kansas.

The record shows Jennings was convicted in 1895 for robbing a Rock Island train in Oklahoma, sentenced to life imprisonment, paroled after five years and pardoned in 1907 by President Theodore Roosevelt.

Lake says of that one proven train robbery: "The gang netted only about three bucks apiece. A posse found out they were holed up at a ranch house and came after 'em. Al was so scared he couldn't pull the trigger. They took 'em all away to prison, like taking candy from a baby."

Al claimed he outshot Jesse and Frank James at the age of 14 in a shooting contest at Dodge City, Mo., that he knew the Dalton boys, Bat Masterson, Doc Holiday, Wyatt Earp, as well as humorist Will Rogers.

Al also said he met writer O. Henry in a federal penitentiary and that he, Al, was the inspiration for many of the author's tales.

Nonsense, says Lake. When the Western scholars presented facts to refute Jennings' claim, "each time the old man would just sputter and walk away," said Lake.

Al Jennings was born in Tazewell County, Va., and left home at 11 because his father killed his pet squirrel — "I could always kill a man without batting an eye but I couldn't stand to see an animal harmed," Al once said.

He was admitted to the bar in Comanche County, Kan., in 1884, moved to El Reno, Okla., and was elected county attorney in 1892. He said he turned outlaw when his brother was killed in a gunfight and a jury freed the slayers. Jennings claimed he killed the murderers in a gunfight and became a wanted man.

Novato Board Votes Hill School Study

The Novato Unified School Board last night voted $400 for a study of Hill Intermediate School, to be made by the California Assn. of Secondary School Administrators.

Five members of the association would visit the school for three days. They would make a survey of the administration, instructional staff, non-academic staff, students and building.

A similar report was made last year on Novato High School.

The board received a report compiled by Eugene De Brecht, assistant superintendent in charge of business, giving the financial aspects of annexation of the San Jose School District.

De Brecht reported: (1) The enlarged district would receive $125,000 more from state and federal sources than Novato district now gets; (2) San Jose district tax payers would have a decrease totaling $18,000 if the Novato tax rate were applied to that district, and (3) at $125 per student, half of the present high school enrollment going to San Rafael High School would cost $31,250 tuition from the Novato district.

The Novato School Board also:

1. Asked Ralph Giovaniello, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction, for an outline of a proposed eight-year study of high school pupils.

2. Heard a report of proposed Saturday "enrichment" courses for grades four through eighth from Giovaniello, and asked for a further study of it. Thirty-three parents among the 150 present indicated a desire for such courses for their children.

3. Raised the committee studying school goals to 11 members, instead of 10 members and an alternate.

Chrysler To Try Turbine Engine Auto

Big Departure From Piston Driven Cars

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chrysler Corp. displayed an experimental turbine-driven automobile today and made it clear that mass production was being considered.

The company said it planned to put 50 to 75 cars in the hands of customers for test driving in 1963.

Results of the tests, further engineering and cost studies, and consumer reaction could lead to volume production, said Robert Anderson, vice president.

Such cars would be a radical departure from the conventional piston-driven vehicles, of which there are now about 70 million on the road in the United States.

The turbine engines reportedly have one-fifth as many parts as reciprocating engines and require no oil changes or antifreeze.

Speculation was that if tests are successful the car will be manufactured in volume within five years. But Chrysler displayed its optimism by announcing booklets on the car will be available at all dealers shortly after the first of the year.

George Huebner Jr., executive engineer, told a news conference, "We would not be standing before you today if we did not believe the trend which we have started already exists."

The gas turbine runs on any fuel that can be sent through a pipe and that will burn with air.

"Even French perfume could be used," said Huebner. However, gasoline would be the more popular and accessible fuel, he explained.

Strawberry Swim Pool Plan Told

A public meeting to discuss formation of a non-profit corporation to build a swimming pool in Strawberry was announced today by James Allroggen for Jan. 5 at 8 p.m. in Strawberry Point School.

Allroggen heads a group of Strawberry residents who propose to form the corporation to build a pool on land of the Strawberry Recreation District.

Plans, he said, call for sale of at least 250 memberships at $200 each, limited to residents of Strawberry if possible. The corporation would lease land from the recreation district and build a $50,000 pool. Plans and specifications would be subject to approval by the recreation district board.

The recreation district would use the pool for its summer program. Maintenance costs would be met from monthly dues paid by members of the corporation. After 20 years, the lease would expire and the pool would become the property of the recreation district.

Associated with Allroggen in the venture are Edward J. Smith, Nicholas L. Petrakis, Kenneth L. Duffin, W. Long, Leighton Hatch, and William Young.

Fire Volunteers Elect Officers In Corte Madera

Police Chief Frank L. Nelson was re-elected chief of the Corte Madera Volunteer Fire Department last night at the Corte Madera Volunteer Firemens Assn. meeting.

Nelson has been fire chief since 1943. Harold Kelly, Corte Madera grocer, was re-elected as assistant fire chief.

Atillio Malatesta of 18 Diamond Head Passage, was elected president of the volunteer firemen for 1962. He succeeds Jack Forster.

Other officers elected were: Lee Larson, vice president; Carl Brown, secretary; Edward Fossan, treasurer; George McDevitt, sergeant-at-arms, and William Nelson, brother of the chief, electrician.

The officers will be installed Jan. 6 at a dinner in the fire house.

Year's End Finds Us Again Waiting Supervisor Change

Just a year ago now we were awaiting the ascension to power of a new majority on the board of supervisors: Fusselman, Blair and Ludy.

Their first precipitous action was the widely denounced stop-work order to the civic center contractor.

Proponents of the stop-work — and they proved to be a relatively small minority—argued that there would be no extra cost as a result of the shutdown, and even if there were, it would be money well spent.

Now the contractor is pressing a bill for $13,872.40. He will collect, all right.

It is just a question of how much and how soon.

And what do taxpayers have to show for the expenditure?

Nothing, absolutely nothing.

The costly stop-work blunder will go down as perhaps the most unreasonable action ever put in the record books by a Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Once more now we are awaiting the ascension to power of a new majority on the board of supervisors.

It will be Castro, Gnoss and Behr. Fusselman and Ludy presumably will comprise the minority. Blair, recalled, has been replaced by Behr.

All in all the past year has been one of negativism. The civic center stop-work debacle was followed by the vote to abolish the position of county administrator, for instance.

So the new majority faces a job of rebuilding and restoration.

We confidently hope that a year from now we can note with pride some positive steps in county government, toward the solution of some pressing problems.

We bid the supervisors a happy, productive and progressive New Year.

The Worst Tick Season

As owners of dogs and cats and other free roaming animals probably know by now, Marin is undergoing one of its worst tick seasons in memory.

Our dogs have required a careful picking each night for the past month. We telephoned our veterinarian and he confirmed that ticks are "just terrible" this year and are likely to remain so until spring.

The only suggestion he offered was a preventive measure. He said there is a material that comes in a spray can with which to discourage ticks.

We pass this tip along to worried pet owners.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

FEAR CAN BE CATCHING

You can contract an illness yourself by over-anxiety about a friend's heart attack or cancer, according to two medical experts.

While these two afflictions are not contagious in themselves, fear of them is indeed catching.

Symptoms of such maladies-by-suggestion are speeding of the heart, shortness of breath, blurry vision, ringing in the ears, indigestion, lump in the throat, dryness of mouth and perspiring hands.

What really ails them is anxiety—"excessive or unnatural fear of sickness," the doctors concluded.

"A hundred cartloads of anxiety," runs an old proverb, "will not pay an ounce of debt."

It would be heartless not to be deeply affected by the troubles of friends or by the monumental problems staggering the world.

But we can do others and ourselves a big favor by taking reasonable steps to assist them instead of wringing our hands in fruitless anxiety.

"Be not solicitous for your life . . ."
(Matthew 6:25)

Help me, O Holy Spirit, to realize that true concern for others lies in doing for them as well as in feeling sorry for them.

BACKSTAIRS AT WHITE HOUSE

Secret Service Likes Setup Of Palm Beach Holiday White House

By MERRIMAN SMITH

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Backstairs at the White House:

Secret service and other security personnel like the setup at the holiday White House and prefer it to the home of former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy where President Kennedy and his family spent Christmas last year.

The president, his wife and children this Christmas season are living in the home of C. Michael Paul, an old friend of the elder Kennedy. The Paul place has spacious grounds and the house itself is removed from the main streets of Palm Beach by about 100 yards.

Ambassador Kennedy's property, on the other hand, is only a few feet away from a main and heavily travelled street.

THE PRESIDENT and his family probably will remain here well into January. The chief executive has a speaking date in Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 6 and is expected to fly there direct from Palm Beach. Whether he then returns to Florida for a few more days before heading for Washington apparently is a matter yet to be decided.

Congress does not convene until Jan. 10 and the president's presence will not be urgently required in Washington until shortly before that time. He'll be doing an increasing amount of business down here.

A TRIP BY the president to Mexico in late January now is pretty much out the window. It may be re-scheduled later this year. Actually, no final trip plan ever was announced. So a cancellation is not required. But a Mexican visit the last week of January was under serious consideration. This, however, has been dropped.

THERE'S ALSO a story going around Palm Beach this holiday season that one of the most famous figures of international society has an interesting system for picking up pin money. Invited to spend the weekend at your estate, this famous society figure gives you a bill for $2,500 when the weekend is over—plus travel and other expenses.

THOSE WHO KNOW say that not in years has the president shown such open and enduring anger as he displayed in reaction to the internationally distributed false story (not used by UPI) that his wife was doing the "twist" in an out-of-town saloon with other men two nights before Christmas — and while the president's father was so desperately ill. The fact that the story was without the slightest element of truth and the fact it was denied did nothing to relieve the president's anger.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Madison Avenue Highly Regarded

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In your Dec. 21 editorial, "Candidates Should Shun Madison Avenue Methods," you stated: "Much of the Kennedy campaign first for the nomination and then for the presidency was based on a Madison Avenue approach."

During the campaign I distinctly remember a highly-regarded MA technique that was used. TV animated cartoons featuring Nikita and company told how they would make hash out of Kennedy if he should be elected.

Really, gentlemen! Sour grapes after all this time?

Let Reason Govern Public Discussion

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It is unfortunate that Milen Dempster and his group in the A.C.L.U. chose the issue of the Nativity display as a battleground for civil rights. One need not be a Christian, in these troubled, war-bedeviled times, to accept and celebrate the Prince of Peace as a fitting symbol of the yearnings of mankind. There is nothing in the image of the gentle Jesus, champion of the humble, the underprivileged, the defenseless, that is inimical to the cause of civil rights —quite the contrary.

It is a mistake to take a purely legalistic stand on such a question as this. Conceivably, it might be possible to get a high court to enjoin the display of the Nativity scene on public grounds, but what a hollow victory that would be when by it you alienate many potential allies in such important struggles as those against racism and segregation. It certainly is unwise of the A.C.L.U. to injure its usefulness in these critical times.

Now, having voiced my disagreement with Mr. Dempster, I hasten to disassociate myself from the howling pack that has so gleefully jumped on him (including Peter Behr, whose proclivity for jumping on band wagons makes me regret having voted for him). The letter by Mr. Dempster in your Dec. 20 issue contrasts significantly, in its dignified, reasoned tone, from the hysterical, almost lynch spirited attack against him. For instance:

"The trouble with these people is . . . they prefer to prod and taunt until they succeed in recreating a Hitlerian bloodbath." According to Mrs. Smart's version of recent history, the saintly Hitler wanted nothing but peace on earth and good will among men, but "these people" prodded and taunted him till he lost his temper and killed six million unarmed Jews and many more millions of Christians, armed and unarmed! This is either a psychotic aberration or an ugly threat—an incitement to lynching. I don't think such statements should be allowed to stand unchallenged; neither should the various invitations to Mr. Dempster and his group to move to Russia.

You do not hesitate to print such letters, thus upholding the right of free speech. But you have in the past included disclaimers, comments and rebuttals in your letters column. Would it be unreasonable to ask for an editorial decrying the hysterical, rabble-rousing approach to public discussion?

Pot Calling Kettle Black

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your editorial of Dec. 21 regarding "Madison Avenue Methods" seemed less of an indictment than a case of the pot calling the kettle black.

Witness: the constant orchids thrown at newspapers in you columns. Is there insecurity here? Who are you trying to convince? Yourselves? Or the people who read the paper anyway? Would not some "Madison Avenue Methods" be useful in developing a new reading audience?

Witness: the publication of advertisements that shout phrases such as "Repeat of a Sellout!" — "First Annual Sale" (or party, or what have you)—"Christmas Bargains."

Witness: the knock you put on George Christopher and Kennedy, while ignoring the shoddy parts played in this 1890 melodrama by Nixon and Knight. This writer has scanned the pages looking for some mention of Nixon offering comments about the state of California. Instead, he is immersed in the Congo and everything else. Of course, he lives in a world apart — a world whose slogan is a variation of an old theme: "Never a boost, always a knock."

As regards "motherhood and sin," perhaps all of us should realize (with apologies to Philip Wylie) that the primary sin is Mom-ism. Perhaps, too, the I-J should emerge from its own shadow, and stand in the sun for awhile.

If editorials such as that "Madison Avenue Methods" special continue, may it be suggested that the lead editorial each night be Interlandi's "The Cynic's Corner."

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Jack Benny recalls a day in his youth when he was practising on his violin in Waukegan, Ill. A dog stood outside the window howling his head off. Benny's father stuck his head inside the door and implored, "For Pete's sake, Jack, play something that dog doesn't know!"

Back in the Indiana hamlet where he had been raised, Herb Shriner asked the constable, "What's the most exciting thing that's happened around here this season?" "I guess nothin' at all," admitted the constable. "Shucks," said Shriner mournfully, "I sure wish I could have gotten in on it!"

"And now my poor husband think's he's Shakespeare," mourned a long-suffering wife to the family head shrinker. "A harmless delusion," observed the latter. "The heck it is," disputed the wife. "He won't let me bring bacon into the house."

Approach Of Year's End Brings Thoughts Of Other Times, Places

THIS IS A TIME of year when the roots of trees and people drink deep.

At such a period I feel as solidly set in Marin County as Marin will allow.

When I first arrived here in 1915 it was as a visitor. During years between I've wandered far. But now Marin has become truly home.

Each New Year my roots have reached deeper. But many memories remain, mostly of travel by air. Now I think more of freighters, for the sea has tremendous pull as we all know. But leave Marin?—it's hard.

Odd things can happen even on a leisurely liner. Once between Yokohama and Honolulu we crossed the date line just in time to have two Christmas Eves.

Things happen faster in the air. I recall a certain far from tasty lunch-time martini. Thinking things over, I realized I was being served somewhere east of Japan at 6:45 a.m. Shanghai time, which my watch and stomach still kept.

I remember the beauty of dodging through fog and clouds as we circled for long minutes around Chungking's rocky peninsula far up the Yangtze. Even more beautiful was a muddy Chinese landing field when we finally got down.

SPEAKING OF BEAUTY, there's India and the famous Taj Mahal — this I've seen three times from the air in wartime, its dome straw-covered against Japanese bombs. But never have I seen it from the ground, as yet.

When one looks down on the steaming thick green jungles of Brazil there is one big thought: "How would we ever land on or in that?"

The same question comes to mind over our Rockies west of Denver, but it's always fun looking for threadlike roads driven in past sports car rallies.

New York circled in early morning gives spectacular gleams of sunlight off cliffs and minarets.

There's a desert called Sind. Flying to Karachi, I remembered a punning British general who ended his victorious campaign with a one-word cable to London—"Peccavi." If you know your Latin, that's "I have sinned."

Ugly flat Shanghai on its mud flat could be lovely by night, with Chinese signs flashing in zig-zagged red and blue neon tubing.

But really wonderful is the night-sparkling peak of Hongkong, with Victoria's lights winking at those of Kowloon across a harbor silent with anchored ships.

Lush Philippine countryside was an aerial treat after crawling by car up twisting mountain roads to the mountain "summer capital" of Baguio.

NEW MEXICAN country around Santa Fe, with Los Alamos on the skyline and Indian pueblos below, struck in poignantly with a loved one peering from our light plane to watch our dragon-fly shadow skipping over the hills.

And remote and alone in the south Atlantic, even that tiny cinder called Ascension Island can be as welcome as a Garden of Eden.

My tip on Africa's Lake Chad is not to waste your time peering for hippos. Those waters seem from the air as dead as Utah's Great Salt Lake.

Stupendous is the word for our Grand Canyon of the Colorado any way you see it, but from the ground at sunrise or sunset is best.

From far above, Peking's mighty walls do not look high. At any rate you have a view their builder Kubla Khan never did.

On whichever side of the world you may be, it's always a thrill to peer down on the place you currently call Home Sweet Home. We're all egoists.

These things I thought about at midnight as a soft Marin County rain whispered on the roof. Then I turned over, most content.

Three New Faces May Loom Over GOP Political Horizon Soon

WASHINGTON—Some Republican political leaders hope the choice of the 1964 Presidential nominee will not be limited to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater.

They would like a wider range of candidates. At this point they are talking about how nice it would be to have some new faces on the national scene.

This may not be idle talk. After next year's election there may well be some new political faces who would like to look into the Presidential mirror. I can think of three such possibilities and others may emerge.

THE BEST KNOWN non-political dark horse at this stage is George Romney, president of American Motors, a progressive, articulate business leader in the pattern of Wendell Willkie. In a few weeks he may become a political figure because the Republicans in Michigan are pressing him to run for Governor against incumbent John B.Swainson, who was elected by a relatively narrow margin last fall.

Mr. Romney has long evidenced a wide interest in public affairs. His magazine articles and speeches, including an appearance before the National Press Club in Washington, usually deal with the state of the nation, only occasionally with the state of his industry, which, in its compact car end, shows Mr. Romney to be a man of vision.

THERE ARE TWO other "new faces" — new, that is, from the standpoint of Presidential potential—which may soon come over the horizon as a result of the '62 elections.

One is Fred Seaton, a Nebraska newspaper publisher, who ably filled three different jobs in the Eisenhower administration. He was an assistant to the President on the White House staff; he was an Assistant Secretary of Defense; he was an effective Secretary of Interior. He aims to run for Governor of Nebraska next and if he wins the nomination and election comfortably, he, too, will be ready to seek or to be summoned to something higher.

The other is young — but in light of Mr. Kennedy's election, not too young—45-year-old Robert A. Taft Jr. who has been steadily making his way to the top in Ohio Republicanism. Everything points to his running for Governor against Michael DiSalle who apparently wanted to step down after one term but who is now besought by Democrats to make the race again.

CLEARLY ROBERT TAFT Jr. has made friends and influenced politics in Ohio. He has emerged as a strong and well-liked leader of the Republican party in the state legislature. If he makes it to the Governor's chair, his name will likely go before, the 1964 Presidential convention—or a later one.

All three of these "new faces" would be classified, I think, as left of Goldwater and right of Rockefeller. Seaton is an "Eisenhower Republican." Taft counts himself a "Nixon Republican," and all I can say about Romney is that when you are talking with Mr. Nixon, Romney's name comes favorably into the conversation.

DEATH CAR—Crumpled when it was struck by one car and knocked into the path of another, this sedan wound up a formless mass, its driver dead, in a chain-reaction traffic smashup on Puerto Suello Hill yesterday involving seven vehicles.

Driver Dies As 7 Vehicles Pile Up

Supt. Dennie B. Willis, "The first thing I knew, I saw a car coming right at me."

The rear of the Bolin car contained several cans of paint which spurted out in a wide crescent as the sedan spun in the highway.

Heiney's car went 90 feet at an angle across the highway, hitting a small station wagon driven by L. H. Leonardi, electrician of 12 Loma Linda, San Rafael, and a truck driven by Fred Gomes, San Lorenzo milk salesmen, both southbound.

Heiney was thrown out into the southbound lanes.

The driverless car hurtled the divider hit Tsue's sedan almost head-on as it came north in the left lane. It finally stopped partly on the east shoulder of the northbound lanes after striking Miss Jones' station wagon, headed north in the right lane.

Sgt. Walter Pudinsky came over the rise northbound in his own car after going off duty at the San Rafael office of the highway patrol. He found Tsue pinned behind the wheel of his car, unconscious, and extricated him.

Patrolmen A. J. Corvino, R. W. Topham and Samuel Thomas soon arrived and found Bolin already dead. The other injured were removed to the San Rafael hospital.

A Terra Linda housewife, Mrs. Ruth Yungling Stearns of 552 Montecello Road, locked the brakes of her car when she came over Puerto Suello Hill northbound at 3:25 p.m. and saw traffic halted by the series of crashes. Her car crossed the divider and went 75 feet down an embankment but was prevented from overturning by skimming along a chain fence for 150 feet, west of the freeway. Mrs. Stearns emerged unhurt.

NOVATO

ing things by 3-to-2 vote.

Marshall said that with its present make-up, he doubted if the board would ever vote unanimously on the question of the superintendent or even 4-to-1.

Rev. C. M. Croughan of the Novato Presbyterian Church, a member of the Citizens Committee Studying School Goals, commented that the people could not change the board's mind, nor the board change the peoples' mind.

Trustee Leonora Dougherty moved that the board start negotiations with Smith next week at an executive session. This died for lack of a second.

The motion to start negotiations at the meeting next Tuesday passed unanimously after trustee Marett Boissevan said it was so important it should take precedent over other business.

When the board convened in the administration building at 8 p.m. the audience room was filled to capacity and people were standing the entire length of the hall. The meeting was then moved to the larger multipurpose room at adjacent Marion School.

'Open Area' Zone Decision Is Postponed

Decision on the much-debated proposed "open area" zoning amendment was indefinitely postponed by the county supervisors yesterday to give time for County Counsel E. Warren McGuire to check all aspects of its repercussions on private property.

Supervisor Peter Behr moved for continuance after letters asking delay had been read from three attorneys representing many land owners.

Behr added that "there's nothing I'd love to see more, from a conservation standpoint" than enactment of proper "open area" legislation but that so many complexities appear that county counsel "should work on it at least a month."

The planning commission felt that adequate safeguard was given through provision that private property should not be classed as open area district unless both commission and supervisors found that such classification "is a proper exercise of the police power and would not constitute an unwarranted or arbitrary restriction of private property rights."

Behr indicated intention to seek reversal of the board's action last year in zoning for "tower apartments" on Samuel Neider property on Strawberry Point. This came up in connection with improvement of West Strawberry Drive. Behr said he meant to seek county counsel's opinion as to whether improvements on the road by Neider could be ground for claim if means were found to get "legal reversal and rezoning of the tower development."

The subject was dropped after attorney Bryan McCarthy stipulated readiness by Neider to work with Golden Gate Baptist Seminary for improvement of the road regardless of the apartment plan.

It was agreed to draft a resolution for action Jan. 2 for construction of the road to 40-foot width, and curbs on both sides, with possible condemnation to enable Neider to acquire some highway property near Ricardo Road.

The supervisors also:

1. Approved tentative maps of 5.25-acre Elephant Hill Subdivision and of three-acre Rolling Hills Subdivision No. 2, both on Tiburon Peninsula.
2. Set for hearing at 2 p.m. Jan. 16 Eichler Homes' petition to rezone 16 acres in Lucas Valley to planned community district.
3. Accepted Bank of America low bid of average interest of .03891927 per cent on $195,000 in Dixie School District 1956 bonds.
4. Appointed Dr. Michael Scholl deputy county physician at $300 per month, Warren Dumm building inspector at $483, and Susanna Jane Bruff county library assistant at $50.
5. Set June 7 as election date for proposed San Rafael Meadows flood control zone.

Missing since Friday

San Rafael Boy Missing Since Friday

An all-points bulletin has been issued for a 14-year-old San Rafael boy reported missing since Friday after being picked up by the police that day following an altercation in a San Rafael store.

Police Sgt. Louis Foster said Herman (Danny) Cagley was delivered to Francis Phillips of 1364 Grand Avenue, a friends of the boy's father, Herman G. Cagley of Fort Baker, after young Cagley reportedly had a fight with another boy in the F. W. Woolworth Co. store at 1009 Fourth Street.

Mrs. Phillips told the boy to sit in her car while she talked to the officer, Foster said. While she did so, the youth vanished.

Since Friday, school friends of the youth have told police they have seen him in the San Rafael area, police said.

Youths Suspected Of Attempted Fire

About a dozen juveniles are suspected of deliberately attempting to set fire to a chair with a wicker seat in the Terra Linda Recreation Center late yesterday, Fire Chief Richard Flaherty said today.

Flaherty said the names of the youths, all below 18 years of age, had been turned over to Walter J. Fairweather, chairman of the recreation commission.

Fairweather said he planned to discuss the matter with other members of the commission and call in the youths' parents.

Billy Rose To Wed

NEW YORK (AP) — Showman Billy Rose and Joyce Matthews, who were divorced in 1959, obtained a marriage license today. They said they would remarry in the near future. Miss Matthews was Rose's third wife.

TUNNEL

ern firms recommended for the job, and an estimate of $18,000 or more—which would not include actually boring into the tunnel—from Ebasco Services of Palo Alto.

Jacobs, in a letter to Mayor John F. McInnis, wrote that he and Hawke were offering their services after reading in last Wednesday's Independent-Journal about the search for a qualified consulting firm — and the price quoted. He suggested his and Hawke's firms could give the city what it needs for considerably less money — and that he feels a personal interest because of his Marin residence.

Jacobs' letter noted that Boris H. Lakusta, the city's special counsel in its fight to retain railroad service, had written that investigations by local firms would not carry sufficient weight with the ICC.

"I think this is not the case with our firms," wrote Jacobs, then proceeded to reel off a list of clients which included, among others, the World Bank and the federal governments of the United States, Australia, Ghana and Lebanon.

(City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw noted that he had a later letter from Lakusta recommending that Jacobs and Associates be hired to do the engineering survey.)

Hawke mentioned that his firm did the economic survey for the Southern Pacific Co. on what to do about rebuilding or replacing its Lucin Cutoff across Great Salt Lake—which resulted in building a whole new crossing of the lake. "But we are not indebted to any railroad," he assured the council.

At Mayor McInnis's suggestion, Hawke agreed he and Jacobs would go over materials available from other sources—including an economic survey new being made for the city's planning consultants — and offer a more nearly exact cost estimate at the council meeting two weeks hence. The city then hopes to enlist financial assistance of the county and perhaps some other cities. It may also get some from private firms, as City Manager Dan E. Andersen said American Distilling Co. already has offered financial aid in the fight.

Andersen said the PUC had asked that the city obtain an engineering survey, as it is not equipped to do so. The PUC is pressing NWP for necessary figures for a complete economic study, the city manager said.

Baby Death Mother Due For Court

Antoinette (Toni) Wahlen, 23-year-old San Francisco model, will be transferred from Marin General Hospital to jail tomorrow noon to appear in court to face a murder charge for stabbing her newborn baby to death at a Sausalito apartment.

Her attorney, William O. Weissich, has indicated he would argue for her release from jail on bail. Normally, murder suspects are not released on bail, but the judge has final discretion.

CHAMPION BECOMES A CHEERLEADER

Official! DeMaestri Quits Yanks

Confirming a report which appeared in the Independent-Journal last month, Marin County's Joe DeMaestri last night announced his retirement from professional baseball after 11 years in the American League.

The utility infielder for the World Champion New York Yankees said he was tired of the travel in baseball and of being away from his family and added, "I'm home for good." He said he would now devote full time to the DeMaestri Distributing Co. he and his father own in San Rafael. They distribute beer, wine and Calso.

DeMaestri contemplated retirement after the 1960 season, but changed his mind when the Yankees offered him a salary that he said was "too good to turn down. But now, he added, "I'm through with baseball for good."

"I've already informed them (the Yankees) that I wouldn't be back next season," he added.

It has been estimated DeMaestri was paid $22,000 by the Yankees last season.

DeMaestri's retirement leaves the world champions short of infielders since star shortstop Tony Kubek has been called to active duty with the Army and will miss the entire 1962 season.

Joe was used sparsely last season, appearing in only 30 games. He scored one run, collected six singles for a .146 batting average. He was not used in the 1961 World Series, but in 1960 played in four games, getting one hit in two times at bat.

During his 11 years in the American League, DeMaestri played for the Chicago White Sox, St. Louis Browns, Philadelphia Athletics, Kansas City Athletics and finally the Yankees.

His best year was 1957 when he was named a member of the A.L. All-Star team and was given a "night" in his honor by Kansas City and Marin County fans.

DeMaestri was considered a weak batter (.255 was his best major league average), but built his reputation with great defensive play when he was a regular shortstop.

In looking back over his career, he rates the 1960 World Series against Pittsburgh as "my greatest thrill."

Joe was signed to his first professional contract by the Boston Red Sox upon graduation from Tamalpais High School in 1947. He played in the Red Sox' minor league chain at San Jose, El Paso, Tex., Oneonta, N.Y. and Birmingham, Ala. until the Chicago White Sox drafted him in 1951.

Joseph Paul DeMaestri, a native of San Francisco, celebrated his 33rd birthday on Dec. 9. He and his wife and three children reside at Marin Golf and Country Club Estates at Loma Verde.

Entirely Too Much Emphasis Has Been Placed On Hornung's Passes

HANLEY

Green Bay's Packers got a lot of mileage these past months out of a weekly story that became just a trifle monotonous, the drafting for military service of their ace Paul Hornung coupled with the weekly guessing game whether Hornung would or would not get a pass from Ft. Riley, Kans.

Then, after it became quite routine for Hornung to get weekend passes in time to participate in Packer games, Green Bay's coach Vince Lombardi began wondering whether Hornung's timing would be off because he missed midweek practice sessions.

Since he was drafted in midseason, Hornung missed only one Packer game, the one against the Los Angeles Rams. Any speculation about whether Hornung would or would not play in the NFL championship Packer-Giant game this Sunday in Green Bay was stifled Christmas Eve when Hornung received a full week's holiday leave.

HOWEVER, there still might be some speculation whether he will have enough time to catch a plane after the game and report back to Ft. Riley before his leave ends. When all other angles of the story seemingly are exhausted this one has possibilities.

It's doubtful that Hornung was accorded any special pass privileges each week since his induction. But that point never was made clear from week to week every time Hornung received his pass with attendant publicity.

Scores of other Wisconsin men, drafted about the same time Hornung was summoned to service, also probably received just as many weekend passes as Hornung did. But nobody was picking up their plane fares back to Green Bay so they undoubtedly used their passes for boring visits to the town nearest their military base.

Nevertheless, neither the Army nor the front office of the Packer organization has clarified this point—or if it was clarified in an original statement on the occasion of Hornung's first weekend pass, it wasn't emphasized properly.

ENTIRELY TOO much emphasis was placed each week on the other phases of Hornung's leaves, particularly the speculation about whether his timing would lack precision due to missed practices.

Hornung himself probably is very happy that this is the last week his military passes will be reviewed in the sports pages. He probably will go on getting them each week after the NFL championship game is played this Sunday, but then they no longer will be considered newsworthy.

AL BRIGHTMAN
New S.F. coach

Saints Pass .500 Mark For New Mentor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Coach Al Brightman couldn't have joined San Francisco's Saints at a better time if he had picked the date himself.

The American Basketball League club, playing its first game under Brightman, surged past the .500 mark for the first time last night with a 114-100 win over the Los Angeles Jets.

It was San Francisco's 10th straight home victory. The Saints, with a 15-14 mark, entertain the Jets again Thursday night.

Kenny Sears and Jim Francis paced the winners with 25 points apiece. Bill Spivey of Los Angeles led the scoring with 34 points.

Brightman was named coach of the Saints Tuesday to replace Phil Woolpert, who was fired three weeks ago. Brightman coached Seattle University for eight years.

Seals Make Trade With Pittsburgh

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Seals have bolstered their defensive alignment with the addition of Martin Howe, who was acquired from the Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League in exchange for Gary Collins.

The 21-year-old Howe, who played three years with Denver University, is the property of the Toronto Maple Leafs. The terms of the trade state that he will be loaned to the Seals for one year.

Collins, 28, was injured early in the season and saw little action this year.

49ers Sign Burrell, Fast, Rugged End

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers have signed end John Burrell of Rice, their seventh draft choice.

Burrell, 6-3 and 190 pounds, was described by scouts as a "fast, rugged player with excellent hands." He was also drafted by the Dallas Texans of the American Football League.

NEW YEAR'S DAY

Stone Age Football For The Rose Bowl

PASADENA (AP) — The Rose Bowl game, patriarch of all post-season bowl games, promises to be a display of "stone age football," in its 48th renewal on New Year's Day.

This was, more or less, the admission of the two coaches embroiled in the Pasadena classic, Murray Warmath of favored Minnesota and Bill Barnes of UCLA.

Appearing at the dedication of the new $356,000 Rose Bowl press box, those two proteges of the University of Tennessee's famed football purist, Gen. Bob Neyland, predicted a slam-bang game free of gridiron chicanery.

There may have been more truth than tongue-in-cheek when Barnes told more than 100 football experts of varying pedigrees:

"We don't have any secrets but I know that this will be a tremendous football game. We hope our stone age football pays off . . ."

Warmath said his Gophers have tried a few new "little knicknacks," but added: "What we have been doing all season got us here and that's what we hope will sustain us next Monday."

Of course, what really got the Gophers here was Big Ten champion Ohio State's decline of a Rose Bowl bid, and Warmath expressed thanks to Jack Fullen, Ohio State's anti-bowl alumni secretary, for the helping hand.

A poll of the guests in the new press box brought a 69-36 favoring vote for Minnesota.

10.8-POINT EDGE

Those picking Minnesota gave the Gophers an average edge of 10.8-points, compared with the prevailing odds of 7½ points. The UCLA fanciers gave the Bruins an average pull of 3.4 points.

As the final week of practice began Minnesota sped through a brisk 30-minute contact drill in which star tackle Bobby Bell had his first action since he suffered a broken rib against Wisconsin Nov. 25.

For the first time since Minnesota's arrival Dec. 18, all Gophers were off the disabled list in a lively review of their own plays and a defensive test against UCLA's attack.

Following their morning practice session, the Gophers visited the 20th Century-Fox lot to see a movie in the making.

UCLA began final preparations at Long Beach City College, shifting from its own campus where the Bruins had worked out since Dec. 11.

Line Credited For Packers' Great Success

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — What makes the Green Bay Packers run?

It's the right men in the right place in the offensive line, especially at center and the guards, said Packer line coach Bill Austin.

Manning the three prime posts for the Packers are all-pro center Jim Ringo and guards Fred Thurston and Forrest Gregg. They anchored the line that helped the Packers to their second straight Western Division crown and into Sunday's National Football League clash here with the New York Giants.

At the Green Bay-New York meeting in Milwaukee on Dec. 3 the Packers took a 20-17 victory and clinched their division title. The Packers rolled up 16 first downs on the ground to 4 for New York. They gained 270 yards rushing to 69 for the Giants. The Packers added 145 yards passing for a total gain of 415 yards. New York passed for 210 yards and a total of 279.

BEST CENTER

Ringo is the best center in the league, Austin said, because "he's quick and smart."

He runs our offensive line," Austin said. "He makes the calls on blocks, sometimes changing assignments to get better results. He knows what every lineman does on every play."

Thurston, at 250 pounds, has amazing speed for a big man. Gregg, a 240-pounder, is an all-pro tackle, but shifted to the guard spot when Jerry Kramer was lost for the season with an ankle injury.

Playing the tackles are Norm Masters and Bob Skoronski, a pair of 250-pounders.

Against the Giants, the Packer line time and time again cleared wide routes for for fullback Jim Taylor. He responded with his greatest game, running for 186 yards in 28 carries.

"This was the best blocking we had all year," Taylor said. "Thurston and Skoronski were clearing out the right side of the Giant line. I was popping into the secondary with no tacklers to bother me at the line of scrimmage."

Halfback Paul Hornung did more blocking than running when he was around to play after being called to active duty in midseason. But he is on leave and will have a week to get ready for the title game.

Kill Wet Weeds

NEW YORK (AP) — A good weed killer should be applied to lawns only when there is an abundance of soil moisture. When the weather is dry, the stems, stalks, leaves and roots of weeds are hard and tough and weeds don't respond as readily to weed killer.

COLORADO GETS BIG LIFT FOR ORANGE BOWL

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A "forty-to nothing by halftime" prediction has given the underdog Colorado football team unexpected ammunition to use against Louisiana State.

Coach Paul Dietzel, who brought his fourth-ranked Tigers to town Tuesday, winced at the psychological warfare weapon Colorado has found in preparations for Monday's Orange Bowl game.

A New Orleans newspaper was quoted here as saying "Louisiana State will not embarrass the Orange Bowl Committee by winning by more than 40 points." It continued by saying the early kickoff would permit television viewers (ABC-TV) to see LSU run up a 40-0 halftime count before they switched to other games.

Dietzel battled to maintain his poise and choke back the words on the "40-0 story."

"I don't think we have any advantages in the build-up to this game," he said later. Dietzel referred unhappily to the fact LSU was favored. "Colorado has all the advantages going for it," he added.

Hot Aussies Rout Italy In Davis Cup

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—A team as hot as the sun that blistered the Keeyong Stadium courts for two days clinched Australia's 10th Davis Cup tennis championship in 12 years to day, sweeping the doubles for a 3-0 lead over challenger Italy without loss of a set.

The Australian pair of Neale Fraser and Roy Emerson routed Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola 6-2, 6-3, 6-4 for the clincher before a crowd of about 9,000, who chanced the near 100 degree temperatures to be in on the kill of the Italians for the second straight year.

There was about as much tension to the doubles match as Tuesday's singles — also straight set romps in which Emerson turned back Pietrangeli 8-6, 6-4, 6-0 and Australian ace Rod Laver disposed of Sirola 6-1, 6-4, 6-3.

The sweep reduced tomorrow's closing singles matches to formalities and proved again that the Italians are far from Australia's class when it comes to playing on grass courts.

Coupled with a mid-summer heat wave that today shot the mercury to 96 in the shade and an estimated 110 at courtside, the surface handicap and the exceptionally steady play of the Australian team was too much to overcome.

The Italians, who eliminated the United States the last two years to reach the challenge round, scored only one service break against Emerson and the veteran Fraser.

Broncs Battle Pepperdine In WCAC Tourney Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Once-beaten Santa Clara, expected to meet Loyola of Los Angeles in the finals, figures to give Pepperdine's Waves a rough time tonight in the West Coast Athletic Conference basketball tournament in San Francisco.

St. Mary's battles San Jose State in concluding action of the tourney's first round.

Loyola smashed San Francisco State 83-65 and University of San Francisco downed Pacific 76-69 last night in first round action.

The losers clash tomorrow for consolation honors. The winners advance to Friday's semi-finals.

Loyola overcame a five-point halftime deficit with a sensational 51-point second half for the victory over the Gators. Ed Bento's 26 points sparked the Lions and won game scoring honors.

Wayne Martin led San Francisco State with 17 points.

Pacific, behind 46-34 at the half, fought back for a 63-all tie with six minutes left. Led by Jim Bravelli, who scored 21 points, the Dons moved out of trouble with six straight points. Bobby Gaillard had 17 points for USF, the same as did Ken Stanley for Pacific.

Nicklaus Enters L.A. Pro Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP)—National amateur golf champion Jackie Nicklaus is turning pro to play in the $50,000 Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament.

Nicklaus, an Ohio State University student, is known for his distance driving. He won the U.S. amateur twice.

Also turning pro for the Los Angeles tourney is Duff Lawrence, California Open Champion.

SHRINE GAME

Oregon Stater Key Man For West Team

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Big names on the East squad don't impress the West team in general and Hank Rivera in particular.

Even Ernie Davis of Syracuse, the All-America halfback and Heisman Trophy winner doesn't seem to have made a lasting impression on the Oregon State gridder.

As a halfback at OSU, Rivera became noted as a rugged defensive player who usually gave more than he received. Since his main forte was as a defender, he didn't win an abundance of headlines, but rival coaches knew the 180-pounder well.

In the professional drafts of collegiate talent, the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League picked him in the fifth round and Oakland tabbed him in the tenth round of the AFL session.

When the East-West game is played at Kezar Stadium on Saturday, most observers figure the outcome could be decided on how well the defenders of the underdog West do against such star backs as Davis, Bob Ferguson of Ohio and Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State.

Rivera played against Davis early in the season when Oregon State lost to Syracuse 19-8.

"I don't keep a record of people I play against," says the Westerner. "I've played against a lot of good backs this season and I can't rate them in order."

The Rivera football philosophy could be summed up, "If you hit the other guy harder than he hits you, he'll go down."

Coaches Jim Owens of Washington for the West and Joe Kuharich of Notre Dame for the East both plan to play platoon football, but many of the players will see action both ways.

It's on defense where the West expects to use Rivera the most. For to beat the favored East, the West must mount a defense capable of stopping some of the best backs in collegiate football.

Mississippi Cotton Pick

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Mississippi is favored to win the Cotton Bowl game next Monday because of a passing attack that ranked No. 2 in the nation.

Texas generally is conceded to be superior on the ground but while its touchdown output there was more than Mississippi the margin wasn't as wide as Mississippi's in the air.

The Rebels threw for 19 touchdowns compared to 11 for Texas. They also averaged 182.7 yards per game along the air lanes, which is more than twice as much as Texas held its opponents to. The Texas defense yielded 85.9.

BOWL GAME VETS PLAN A REUNION

PASADENA (UPI)—A total of 27 men who can say they played in the Rose Bowl game when it wasn't in the Rose Bowl — and the last group that can say it—will hold a reunion during the 1962 Tournament of Roses pageant.

The men, players on the University of California and Washington & Jefferson football teams that met in the 1922 game—the last played in old Tournament Park — will arrive Thursday, the tournament committee announced yesterday.

The 19 Cal grads are headed by Dr. Harold (Brick) Muller and Stanley Barnes. Oth- and Leo Crane.

Eight members of the W&J team that battled the Bears to a 0-0 tie in that game. They include Russ Stein, Ralph Vince, Ray Neal, Bas Basiste, Swede Erickson and Speedy West.

The players will attend the Pasadena Kiwanis luncheon Friday. They'll watch the 1962 rose parade from the official stand and then attend the game between Minnesota and UCLA.

Although 100 miles inland, Washington, D. C., the national capital, is located on tidewater.

No Doubt About It—Maris Was 1961's Standout Athlete

By OSCAR FRALEY

MIAMI (UPI) — Roger Maris' double-edged assault on the immortal Babe Ruth's home run record establishes him solidly today as the outstanding athlete of 1961.

Maris stands in a controversial quagmire as a man who did and did not surpass Ruth's 34-year-old glamor mark of 60 home runs. Maris slammed 59 in 154 games — second highest total ever — and then walloped 61 in the extended 162-game American League season.

But there can be little quarrel with the fact that Maris was the athlete who stands out head and shoulders over a fine field as the number one headliner of the year.

Sport by sport, the top performers as this corner sees them were:

BOXING

Middleweight champion Gene Fullmer, whose three rugged title defenses made him tops. He beat the still dangerous Ray Robinson, decisioned tough Florentino Fernandez despite an elbow fracture, and then took care of welterweight champion Benny (Kid) Paret.

GOLF

South African Gary Player gets the nod as the top money earner and first foreign victor in the Masters in a year in which there were no double winners of the big ones.

Jack Nicklaus of Ohio State, taking his second national amateur and the collegiate crown, led the amateurs, while Mickey Wright's slam of the U.S. Open and PGA titles put her up front on the women's fairways.

BASKETBALL

Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics among the pros and Jerry Lucas of Ohio State among the collegians.

Wilt Chamberlain set the records but the pros themselves voted Russell the most valuable player in action. Lucas, solid as the Rock of Gibraltar in every department, was the wheelhorse as Ohio State went undefeated until the NCAA finals.

FOOTBALL

Y. A. Tittle of the New York Giants among the pros and Ernie Davis of Syracuse of the collegians. Tittle came out of nowhere to step into an unfamiliar breach and put the Giants right up at the top. There were many fine college backs, including such as Bob Ferguson of Ohio State, but Davis was tabbed by the all-seeing pros as a man with everything.

TENNIS

Roy Emerson of Australia and Darlene Hard were the top amateurs and once again it was Richard (Pancho) Gonzales among the pros. Emerson won the U.S. and Australian championships, conquering Wimbledon king Rod Laver in the process. Miss Hard defended the U.S. crown. Gonzales mowed them all down again when the heat was on and again threatened retirement.

HORSE RACING

Johnny Sellers was the champion jockey of the year, a payoff on a change of riding tactics. Altering from a front runners to a come-from-behind heart-stopper, Sellers led in total victories, rode Carry Back to Kentucky Derby and Preakness triumphs and at one stretch knocked off eight races in a row at Atlantic City.

AUTO RACING

The glamor grind still is the Indianapolis 500, and victory there gave the laurels to A. J. Foyt of Houston with a record 139.131 mile per hour average. Stock car racing, with better than 150 mile per hour speeds, was closing in fast on the old brickyard, however.

WRESTLING

Buddy (Nature Boy) Rogers is the most widely accepted "world champion" — at the moment — but there will be 50 new claimants by the time you toss this away.

Ohio State Unanimous Cage Choice

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unbeaten Ohio State was a unanimous choice today for the No. 1 position in the Associated Press major college basketball poll.

Winner of their first seven games by margins of from 13 to 43 points, the Buckeyes continued to dominate the voting among a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters. They received all the 42 ballots cast for first place.

Cincinnati, the national collegiate — NCAA — champion, held on to second despite a 52-51 loss to Wichita.

Completing the top ten were: 3. Duquesne; 4. Southern California; 5. Kansas State; 6. Kentucky; 7. West Virginia; 8. Wichita; 9. Purdue, and 10. Duke.

Newcomers to the standings were Wichita, which followed up its victory over Cincinnati with a 60-48 rout of Santa Clara; Kentucky, 80-67 winner over Kansas State, and Duke, winner over West Virginia 69-65.

Ousted were Providence, which fell all the way from third place to the also-ran category after dropping decisions at DePaul and Xavier of Ohio; ninth-place St. Bonaventure, beaten 74-57 by Duquesne, and Seattle and Arizona State, which had been tied for tenth.

GREEN PEAS AND SIRLOIN TIPS

Frozen Green Peas, Sirloin Tips Star In Menu For Party Buffets

Any excuse is a good excuse to plan a party . . . in our thinking! Especially in this season of exhilarating sports, brisk-weather sharpened appetites and luring appeal of an evening around the cozy warmth of the fireplace . . . buffet dinners are our favorite way to gather congenial friends for an evening of bridge or good conversation.

Planning . . . and preparing . . . the dinner is fun for we always adhere to the advice of Brillat-Savarin, that renowned gourmet, who said, "Let the dishes be few in number but exquisitely chosen." One of the flavorful combinations which often finds a place on our buffet table is this palate-pleasing casserole of sirloin beef anad garden-fresh green peas served over hot, buttery instant mashed potatoes. Overtones of oriental cookery lend interest to this easy-do party pleaser.

Marinate the steak, which has been cut in chips until the piquant flavor of the sauce has thoroughly penetrated the meat. Then quickly brown the beef in butter, add the mushrooms and cook until just tender. Take a tip from Oriental cooks and be certain that the mixture is not overcooked! Combine with sauce made from the remaining marinade, water and seasonings. Serve over piping hot potatoes. And, following Brillat-Savarin, our menu includes only individual bowls of green salad and a dreamy, creamy dessert meringue with plenty of hot beverages.

FROZEN GREEN PEAS AND SIRLOIN TIP A LA MODE

- 1 pound sirloin steak, cut 1-inch thick
- ⅓ cup sherry
- ½ teaspoon soy sauce
- ¼ teaspoon ginger
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 can (4 oz.) undrained mushroom pieces
- ⅔ cup sliced green onions
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen peas, separated and partially defrosted
- 1½ teaspoons cornstarch
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- ¾ cup water
- 2 envelopes or 2 3¼ oz. compartments instant potatoes, prepared as directed on package

Cut beef into strips 1½ to 2 inches; slice strips ⅛ inch wide. Combine sherry, soy sauce and ginger; stir and pour over beef; mix well. Cover and marinade in refrigerator 30 minutes to 1 hour. Drain; save marinade. Melt butter or margarine in large frypan; add beef and brown, stirring as needed to brown evenly. Remove beef from pan. Add mushrooms, onions and peas; cover and allow peas to cook just until tender. Combine cornstarch, salt, pepper, water and remaining marinade; stir until smooth. Stir into pea mixture; cook slowly, stirring constantly until thickened. Add meat; cover and heat. Serve atop hot well seasoned instant potatoes.

Yield: 6 servings.

Lacy Wafers For New Year Nibblers

Friends dropping in on New Year's Day? Then we suggest serving these festive lacy wafers for nibblers who like something sweet.

The only trick to making these wafers is in taking them from their baking pan. Stand over them, when they come out of the oven, with a wide spatlua in your hand. In a minute or two, maybe less, the wafers will be set enough to be removed without wrinkling or "shirring." Test one wafer before removing the lot.

LACY NUT WAFERS

- ½ cup sifted flour
- ½ cup medium-fine chopped Brazil nuts
- ¼ cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
- ¼ cup dark corn syrup
- ¼ cup butter or margarine

Mix flour and nuts. Turn brown sugar, corn syrup and butter into a heavy medium-sized saucepan. Cook and stir constantly over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in flour and nuts. Drop by scant teaspoonsful, about 3 inches apart, onto an ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven for 8 to 10 minutes. Let cookies set about a minute or so before removing to wire racks covered with brown paper or paper toweling; cool. If wafers are hard to remove from pan, return to oven for a few minutes to soften. Makes about 2 dozen.

COOKBOOK TALK

"What Cooks in Suburbia" by Lila Perl (Dutton) is a new cookbook with some excellent recipes and menus for various occasions — family fare on a frantic Monday, Saturday buffet suppers, Sunday brunches and guest luncheons.

Why Armour Star is the Bacon the butcher brings home

You don't have to peer through all those bacon package windows. Just remember: only one out of 3 bacon sides rates the Armour Star. And of that prize side, 25% is carefully trimmed away. Only the meaty center-cut is quite good enough for Armour Star. Cherry-red lean. Firm white fat. Happy Armour Star facts.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Robert D. Fords Entertaining Before Tonight's Deb Cotillion

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

The Robert D. Fords of Del Mesa and Caracas, Venezuela, are entertaining a small family group at a dinner tonight in a private suite at the Sheraton-Palace, San Francisco, before the Debutante Cotillion at the hotel. The Fords' daughter, Victoria (Vicki), will make her bow to society at the cotillion. Her escort will be Robert Nickel (Nick) Mein, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Walter Mein Jr. of Woodside. He is a freshman at Menlo College and attended Middlesex and Woodside High School. In the family group at the dinner will be Vicki's paternal grandparents, the Arthur Fords of Ross.

The Robert Fords and all their children, with the exception of the eldest son, Dick, who is on duty in Germany with the Army, were guests at the Christmas Day dinner given by Mrs. Ford's sister, Mrs. Rowland Chapman, and her husband at their home in Kent Woodlands.

With the Fords were their post-deb daughter, Ellen, a San Francisco career girls, Vicki, Janet, a senior at Katharine Branson School, Philip, who is station by the Navy aboard the Hancock and had holiday leave, and Robert, a student at Robert Louis Stevenson School at Pebble Beach. At the Chapmans' dinner, also were their daughters, Mrs. Paul Purdom (Betsy Chapman) of San Francisco and her husband and their four-year-old son, Ned, another daughter, Pat Chapman, a freshman at University of California, and their son, James Chapman, and his wife, who live in San Francisco.

IN DEL MAR Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Wilkins have been entertaining a number of out-of-the-country residents. Among them were former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Donald S. Kennedy of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert S. West of Medina, Wash., who formerly lived in Seafirth.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville Owens of Del Mar entertained at a dinner party on Christmas Day which was attended by 14 relatives.

AT PEACOCK GAP GOLF and Country Club 35 employees of the San Rafael office of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. gathered at a recent luncheon to honor Miss Barbara Knell. She is retiring after 27 years with the company. She was presented with the table's centerpiece, an arrangement of 50 silver dollars.

AT THE OLD GUALALA Hotel on the Mendocino Coast, a long weekend party will be held. On Dec. 31, a group of friends will gather for an unusual New Year's Eve celebration. At the stroke of midnight, Joseph Panick, owner and manager of the hotel, will turn it over to its new owners. Joe, a skillful fisherman and friend to many who flock to his hotel during the steelhead run, is leaving soon for an extended vacation in Canada with film star Fred MacMurray and his wife — fishing! The weekend celebrations will conclude with a breakfast in the hotel dining room New Year's Day. The new owners of the 30- room hotel have promised Joe they will not change its charming turn-of-the-century appearance, but it will be repainted and redecorated. Planned are a maritime museum, art gallery and gift shop, as well as a restaurant and cocktail lounge. Among those attending the celebration from Marin will be Mrs. Mary Slater, John Lord King of Belvedere of Belvedere, Alan Cundalls of Tiburon, George Cherrys of Ross, the Wayne Mayfields and Richard Alcorns of Novato.

AT THEIR CHALET at Sugar Bowl the Richard Duffs of Kent Woodlands with their six children are spending the holidays as is their annual custom. Gifts were opened early Christmas morning so that all could take to the ski trails.

IN THEIR NEW home in Del Mar, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Napper and their three daughters, Cheryl Susan and Melanie, celebrated Christmas. They were joined by Mrs. Napper's mother, Mrs. Arthur Hawkins of Phoenix, Ariz. They enjoyed several days of snow sports at Squaw Valley before the holiday.

DISTAFF SUMMARY

Women's World In 1961 Busy With Doings Great And Small

CHICAGO (UPI) — The women made news in the capitals of the world in 1961, and in some out-of-the-way places too.

In the year women marchers for peace demonstrated at the White House, at the United Nations and the Soviet Embassy in New York. They set jet flight records, won beauty titles, showed their knees in the shortest of skirts, and sneaked, crashed or flirted their way through the Communist wall between East and West Berlin.

And four women faced worries no woman ever had to face before. Their names? Mrs. Alan Shepard, Mrs. Virgil Grissom, Mrs. Yuri Gagarin, and Mrs. Gherman Titov. Their husbands were the first men in space.

It was a year of a new urgency, when the wives of the world's two most powerful leaders issued statements urging women to work for peace. Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and Mrs. Nina Khrushchev offered as a formula for peace differing policies — each representing the differing policies of their husbands.

It was a year that saw American families going underground for days, to see if it were possible to live that way in case of a nuclear war. But things were pretty busy on the earth's surface, too.

A new president was inaugurated and Americans adopted a new first family. The country saw the first photographs of one-year-old John F. Kennedy, Jr., and watched with amusement and admiration the activies of Caroline Kennedy, who captured nearly as many headlines as the President himself.

President and Mrs. Kennedy had a busy year of travel—to France, to visit President and Mrs. Charles de Gaulle, to Vienna to visit with the Khrushchevs, and to Canada on a state tour. Mrs. Kennedy also took a trip to London to visit her sister and then on to Greece for a holiday.

There was big news in England when Princess Margaret gave birth to a boy. The princess and her husband Antony Armstrong-Jones, named the little Viscount Linley David Albert Charles. The British press dubbed him "Davey Jones."

Britain's Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip visited Commonwealth nations in Africa, and the queen adopted an American custom — the cookout.

Princess Anne was 11 in August, and Prince Charles became a teenager, looking forward to later hours and long trousers.

FASHION PICTURE

Long pants were part of the '61 fashion picture for the women, too. Fancy pants became acceptable for evening wear, even outside the home. Skirts for daytime got shorter, and as the spring 1962 fashion collections were unveiled in the fall of '61, it looked as if they'd stay around the kneecap for some time. There was a definite swing away from the loose-fitting, or "relaxed" silhouette of previous season, and a return of frills, flared skirts, pleats, flounces and fringe. The "twist" dress came along as the correct apparel for doing the new dance craze, the Twist.

As always, there were plenty of beauty queens. Most publicized were: Maria Beale Fletcher, 19, of Asheville, N.C., who became the 1962 Miss America; Marlene Schmidt, a 24-year-old East German refugee and electrical engineer, Miss Universe.

Mrs. Lila Masson, 39, a Detroit, Mich., mother of three, Mrs. America; Sharon Brown, 18, of Minden, La., named Miss U.S.A.; Rosemarie Frankland, 18, an English girl, became Miss World; and the American Institute of Building and Design named Joyce Mansfield Miss Best Design of 1961.

The birth rate kept its steady pace; romance flourished; and inevitably, death also took its toll.

Japan's Crown Princess Michiko gave birth to a son. One of the four surviving Dionne quintuplets, Cecile Langlois, had twin boys; Bing Crosby's wife, Kathy, had another child, and actress Joan Plowright and her husband, Sir Laurence Olivier, became parents of a son.

MARRIAGES

Marriages of note during the year:

Lucille Ball, wed to Gary Morton, a nightclub comic; Swedish Princess Birgitta, wed to Prince Johann Georg of Hohenzollern-Siegmarngen; the youngest daughter of Japanese Emperor Hirohito gave up the title of princess to become Mrs. Hisanaga Shumazu, wife of a banker;

Tina Livanos, the former wife of the Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis, wed to the Marquess of Blandford, who used to escort Princess Margaret; actress Audrey Meadows to Robert Six, airlines president and former husband of Ethel Merman; David Rusk, son of the U.S. Secretary of State, wed to Delcia Bence, daughter of a Buenos Aires physician; and Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., wed to Helen Hardin;

A British girl, Toni Gardiner, became the bride of Jordan's King Hussein; and Mrs. Jean McCarthy, wife of the late Senator Joseph McCarthy, married G. Joseph Minetti, member of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Death came to:

Anna Mary Robertson "Grandma Moses, the primitive artist, at the age of 101; Mrs. Angier Biddle Duke, 39, killed in a Long Island plane crash; Princess Beatrix of Bourbon, 87, a member of the Spanish royal family;

FILM DEATHS

Marion Davies, 64, silent screen star; Joan Davis, 53, comedienne; Joan McCracken, 39, the actress best known for her role in the Broadway musical "Oklahoma"; actress Gail Russell, 36; and Annabelle Whitford, 83, the original Gibson Girl.

Berlin, where the cold war threatened to boil into a hot one, brought a number of women into the news in 1961. There were, and are, the sad stories of families divided by the Communist wall, of jumps to safety from houses along the border, of others who died in trying to reach the freedom of West Berlin, and a cloak and dagger operation rescue by a 19-year-old Massachusetts girl and her stepfather.

Evelyn Grimes smiled at Communist border guards and kept them so busy flirting that they barely noticed the elderly woman in the back seat of a car crossing from East to West Berlin. It was Evelyn's grandmother, and East German.

The Peace Corps had its troubles on the distaff side. Margery Michelmore, 23, a Massachusetts teacher, wrote a postcard from Nigeria, describing "primitive conditions" in the African country. The card was intercepted and used as propaganda by anti-Peace Corps students. Now Miss Michelmore now works for the corps in Washington.

No women accomplished so much in flight as the Astronauts, but a couple set new flight records. Jacqueline Cochran, the aviatrix and cosmetics manufacturer, set several jet flight records for women, and the National Aeronautics Association has applied for 15 world records on behalf of high soaring Mrs. Alfred Wold, balloonist.

Other feminine names in the news during the year:

Elizabeth Taylor, the actress, who came close to death from pneumonia in a London hospital; Phyllis McGinley, 56, mother of two, who won the Pulitzer Prize for poetry; Helen Adams, 40, of Cumberland, Wisc., named the teacher of the year;

Mrs. Louise Currey, 58-year-old mother of three from Lookout Mountain, Tenn., named the American Mother of the Year; and Terry Jo Dupperrault, of Green Bay, Wisc., an 11-year-old who was the only member of her family to survive the mysterious sinking of the ketch Bluebelle near the Bahamas.

During the year, the Senate antitrust subcommittee investigated grocery packaging and labeling; Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Abraham Ribicoff told parents to get tough with children who watch too much television, and the director of the American Association of Marriage Counselors advised parents to outlaw dating by children under 15.

And just about the time we began thinking that 1961 produced a high quota of the new, archaeologists in Turkey uncovered a sign of the time in King Croesus' day, 1800 years ago.

It was a shopping center.

Sandbach Orr Rite Saturday

Catharine Mary Orr became the bride of Henry Sandbach Saturday morning at Our Lady Chapel at the Presidio in San Francisco, with the Rev. David Walsh officiating.

Catharine, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Orr of Kentfield, was given in marriage by her father, and she recited vows in a champagne peau de soie gown designed with full skirt ending in a chapel length train.

Cathy's sister, Laurie Orr, Mrs. James W. Barnes of Mill Valley, Mrs. Jack R. Macauley of San Diego, Diana Vest of Kentfield and Nancy Keever of Larkspur were her attendants, attired in topaz satin dresses. Flower girls were Lizanne and Alison Sandbach, the bridegroom's nieces.

William Sandback served his brother as best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Sandbach of Novato.

Escorting guests to seats were Michael Sandbach, another brother; Thomas L. Hinkle, Thomas P. Quinn and Gilbert S. Meideros.

A reception at the St. Francis Yacht Club followed the ceremony. The couple will live in Fort Bragg, N.C., where the bridegroom, an Army lieutenant, is stationed.

The bride was graduated from the Bishop's School in La Jolla and attended Colorado College. Her husband was graduated from the University of San Francisco and attended Georgetown University.

Care, Feeding Of New Pooch

CHICAGO (UPI)—The puppies given for Christmas — some 700,000 of them by estimate—will take a lot of care for the next year.

Here are the institute's suggestions for the care and feeding of the new pooch, whether it's a mongrel or one of the 10 most popular pure-breds: poodle, beagle, Chihuahua, dachshund, German shepherd, Pekingese, cocker spaniel, collie, boxer or Boston terrier.

Assuming the dog is two to three months old, the best age for acquiring a puppy, it should be weaned and able to learn simple commands.

Feed the new puppy four times a day at four-hour intervals. A quality, prepared dog food will supply the necessary balance of protein, carbohydrates, fat, minerals and vitamins.

Begin by mixing the dog food — canned or dry — with warm milk and cereal, gradually increasing the portion of dog food until weaning food is eliminated. Amounts vary from one to three tablespoonsful a meal for very small dogs to a cupful for larger breeds.

Most puppies are beggars, but try to resist the temptation to give them tablescraps and between-meal snacks. Too many "people-food" treats and tablescraps make for an overweight finicky dog.

The first lesson to teach the new puppy is the meaning of "no." Your tone of voice and a smart smack with a rolled newspaper are the best ways of conveying displeasure. Always praise the dog when it is good.

At the age of four to five months when the puppy loses its baby teeth and grows a permanent set, it does a lot of chewing. Give it toys it can't chew up or splinter. Don't let it acquire the habit of chewing old shoes or clothing; it can't distinguish them from your Sunday best that may be left around.

Four to five months is also the time to start leash training, and to revise the dog's feeding schedule from four to three meals a day, at the same time, increasing the portions.

At six to ten months, the dog is an adolescent, and it's time to begin training in earnest, either by enrolling the dog in an obedience training school or by spending 10 minutes a day training it to heel, sit and stay on command. Meals can be reduced to two a day.

At 10 months, the average dog can be fed once a day. The recommended diet allows for 30 to 60 calories per pound of weight per day, depending on the amount of exercise the dog gets. A pound of canned food averages 500 calories, a pound of dry food 1,600 calories.

Having Pets At Home Can Teach Youngsters To Care

What's a boy without a dog? Or a girl, for that matter. Do your children have pets. I hope so.

Of course pets are a nuisance. They must be fed at regular intervals. You can't trust the job to a child. The pets get sick. They shed hair, and muss things up. Dogs bark. Cats make their unearthly yowls outside the window at midnight. Animals reproduce frequently and create confusion. I'm well aware of the trouble a dog or cat causes.

Even so, a pet is worth it. Your children need living things to love. More than that, they need the sensation of being loved. They need to learn to be altruistic. They need to be responsible, and to share many jobs. In other words if you get the right pet your children will learn enough from it to justify the nuisance.

Do you live where you can't have a dog or cat? Then get something smaller. Some birds have wonderful personalities. Goldfish are fun. Even little turtles are nice.

Is your 3-year-old a rebel now? If he isn't, just wait. He will be one soon. Up to 2½ or 3 most children are sweet conformers. They always try to do what we want them to do. If they make mistakes it is because they misunderstand. They aren't intentionally bad.

Then, bingo! Overnight they rebel. They do all the things we've taught them not to do. Not only that, they say mean things. They embarrass us in front of friends. The old conformity is gone. It never will return.

Try to hold your temper. Always check to see what your rebel really is getting at. Establish clear limits to his behavior, making sure he understands them. Enforce your rules consistently. Spank if necessary, but use milder punishments when possible. Explain repeatedly what is right and what is wrong. Gradually he'll improve.

Town Projects Clubs' Work

Eight thousand six hundred member clubs of the General Federation of Women's Clubs have entered the community improvement program with projects for the development of their home towns.

This is the largest number of clubs which have taken part in the four biennial competitions sponsored by the international organization.

Also the largest number of state federations have 100 per cent of their clubs entered, 16 in all. The list is led by Pennsylvania with 929 clubs. Others are Arizona, Arkansas, Delaware, Idaho, Maine, Mississippi, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, Rhode Island, Vermont, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming. If every club reports, each of these state federations will receive an award of $500. Awards are also given to state federations for the second and third largest percentages and to those with the first, second and third largest numbers of clubs reporting.

Each club which reports is eligible first for five awards in its state, ranging from $300 to $50, and the first prize winner in each state becomes eligible for one of 10 national awards, totalling $26,500, with the top national award being $10,000. Judging takes place in each state in March and national judging is completed in May.

Clubs do not work for community improvement alone. They enlist the support of the entire community both in the planning and action stages. Projects range through comprehensive plans for community development, new and improved schools, hospitals and clinics, programs for senior citizens, community centers, recreation areas, regional and local libraries, scholarships, museums and art galleries, safety programs, schools for retarded children and many varied projects that meet a community need.

New Novato Republican Head Enjoys Sports And Club Work

By DOROTHY NEWELL

MRS. E. V. GRUNDSTROM

A vivacious young matron has taken over the helm of the Novato Republican Women's Club, Federation. Mrs. Edwin V. Grundstrom, wife of a Novato attorney, was elected president of the club to serve through the coming year. A former unit chairman, she has belonged to the organization eight months.

The busy housewife and clubwoman is the mother of three girls, Jan, 6, a first grader at Lu Sutton School; Jill, 5; and Deidre Dee, 18 months.

The Grundstroms moved to Novato five years ago upon the graduation of Mr. Grundstrom from Stanford Law School.

Mrs. Grundstrom stated her family particularly likes to spend week ends in their camp trailer, usually heading for spots on the Russian River where her husband likes to fish for steelhead while she and the youngsters read or hike. Other hobbies are horseback riding and bicycling.

The new president is corresponding secretary and on the board of directors of the Novato Community Club. She was also president of the Community Club for two years and chairman of the Book Section of the club during 1958 and 1959.

Mrs. Grundstrom said that the organization hopes to acquaint local women with political candidates and issues.

Projects planned for the organization for the year will be a meeting in January with Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco as guest speaker; a white elephant booth at the Garden Club spring bazaar in April; sponsorship of Jane Nickols' original musical in the spring, and a harvest moon rummage sale in August.

Other officers who will serve with Mrs. Gundstrom are Mrs. Robert Meisner, vice-president; Mrs. Fred Robbins, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Dodson, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Omer Cotterell, treasurer.

FAMILY FARE

Pre-School Children Must Be Taught Good Nutrition

Given a free choice, many teen-agers select a meal consisting of soda, ice cream and candy rather than one made up of meat, vegetables, fruit and milk.

Although such a meal represents an extreme, nutritional surveys in the United States reveal that substantial numbers of persons fail to consume diets which meet the recommended dietary allowances.

These surveys show that the teen-ager, particularly the teen-age girl, is the most consistent violator of the rules of good nutrition. Sub-par intake of calcium, vitamins A and C and some of the B vitamins is most often noted in this age group. But by the time a youngster reaches his or her teen years, nutritional habits are fairly well established and more difficult to modify.

The critical years for formation of nutritional and other health habits are those between 2 and 8. Pre-school children must look to their parents for nutritional guidance, while those in school can gain some knowledge through classroom and school lunch programs.

The parents, in turn, must be familiar with the nutritional requirements of the youngster (which vary during the growth years) and with the nutritive content of the foods provided. During rapid growth years, for instance, children have such a great need for protein, the B vitamins, and vitamin C, that they cannot afford to let too many of their calories come from foods that contribute only carbohydrates, particularly sugar.

The parents' role, according to Dr. and Mrs. C. Anderson Aldrich, in their book "Feeding Our Old-Fashioned Children" is three-fold:

"To provide food

"To support a child's progress from simple to mature methods of eating

"To make it easy for him to establish his own satisfying feeding habits."

In planning meals for children, parents should give special attention to the list of "musts" compiled in the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Milk in each meal, as a drink, if possible;

Another protein-high food, such as meat, fish, poultry, cheese, or an egg, in each meal;

At least one serving of a raw fruit and a raw vegetable in each meal.

Special attention should be given to citrus fruit and juices and tomato juice;

At least two good servings of cooked vegetables, especially dark green and bright-yellow vegetables;

Three to four servings of enriched or whole-grain cereals and breads;

Mildly sweet desserts, which mostly contain either milk and eggs or fruit, or a combination of them;

A source of vitamin D.

Indoor Barbecue

Indoor barbecuing now is possible. It's done with a new appliance that utilizes a permanent bed of heated coals—fired via electricity or gas. There's no charcoal, dirt or fumes, but the ceramic coals cook the meat in the same way regular coals do.

THE HOLIDAY HOSTESS

Are Plastic Containers Safe For Storage Of Leftovers

By BARABARA HOSMER

Storage of leftovers from a large meal usually constitutes a problem for the next few days, and many homemakers have wondered whether large plastic containers are safe to use for all foods.

The Food and Drug Division of the California Department of Public Health has used the opinions of Gilbert Pitman of a San Francisco corporation as the authority on food plastics and containers, and Mr. Pitman stated that pure polyethylene containers are all right for any food.

He said that the heavy, somewhat flexible pans, pails and buckets such as you might buy in the hardware or dime store are probably pure polyethylene, and that the labels on such articles will likely state what kinds of material they contain. But he suggests that if you are uncertain of what the materials are, write to the manufacturer and ask whether the polyethylene and the color used comply with the specifications for food use. This, of course, is impractical at the moment but there is always another time.

Mr. Pitman warns against the use of brightly colored plastics because of the danger of what he calls color migration and because some of the dyes could be toxic. The colorless, opaque or white polyethylene containers, however, are certainly safe for foods.

He also said that fatty foods should not be stored in polyethylene containers for a long time because fat may cause off-flavors to develop, and while this food would not be dangerous, such porous containers may result in oxidation of the fat, and hence a peculiar flavor.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 27, the 361st day of the year with four to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1900, Carrie Nation, violently opposed to alcoholic beverages, staged her first big "raid" as she marched on the saloon in the basement of the Gear Hotel in Wichitia, Kan.

In 1932, Radio City Music Hall, the largest indoor theater in the world, was opened to the public in New York City.

In 1941, Japanese airplanes bombed Manila in the Philippine Islands despite the fact that it had been declared an open city.

In 1945, the United States, Russia, and Great Britain announced they would govern Korea as joint trustees for the next five years.

A thought for the day: English journalist and writer Gilbert Chesterton said: "Thieves respect property. They merely wish the property to become their property that they may more perfectly respect it."

California's Sweeping New Welfare Plan Starts Jan. 1

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A sweeping liberalization in California's welfare programs—which will cost an estimated 123.8 million dollars a year—takes effect Jan. 1.

The changes, enacted by the 1961 legislature, include increased aid grants to some 280,000 aged, blind and disabled persons; extended medical care benefits to persons over 65 with limited income; considerable modification of the law requiring relatives to contribute to the support of parents receiving state aid; repeal of citizenship requirements for state aged and disabled aid; the removal of all limitations on the value of a property used as a home by persons on aid to the aged, blind and disabled; and a modification of the definition of disability.

The department of social welfare said the total cost of the increases for the rest of the 1961-32 year will be 52 million dollars, bringing the total welfare costs for the year to 635 million dollars. This includes 254 million dollars in state funds, 284 million dollars paid by the federal government, and 97 million dollars paid by counties.

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post, at the time the legislation was under consideration, estimated the increases would cost 123.8 million dollars for the 1962-63 fiscal year beginning next July 1. The state would pick up 70.5 million dollars of this increase and the federal government 56.5 million. Net costs to the counties, under the increases would be 3.3 million dollars less than without the increases, due to certain adjustments.

Pointed Question

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A youngster entered the Gingerbread House, a new children's clothing shop, and asked the operators, Mrs. Virginia Updegraff and Mrs. Janet Zoeckler: "Which one of you is the witch?"

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Here Is The Best Way To Get That Small Slam

Ewart Kempson, editor of an English bridge magazine, gets out a collection of bridge problems every few years. His latest (Pocket Book of Bridge Problems) shows you your own hand and the dummy in 70 examples that should puzzle and please perceptive players.

Perhaps North's jump to six notrump is an overbid, but it is just a compliment to your ability to play the cards well. (You are South, so don't let your partner down.) If North bid only five notrump you would go on to six anyway. The contract is very sound.

If you met this hand at the table you might throw the slam out of the window before you realized that there was a problem. You might be tempted to win the first trick in dummy and lead the jack of diamonds for a finesse.

This play would limit you to three diamond tricks. West would capture the jack of diamonds with the queen, and you would win diamond tricks only with the ace, king and ten.

FOUR DIAMONDS: Since you need four diamond tricks for the slam, you should look for a play that will work even against a bad diamond break. Any play will work against a 3-2 or 4-1 break, so you should consider only the possibility that one opponent has all five diamonds.

Win the first heart trick in your own hand and lead a low diamond toward dummy. If West has all five diamonds, what can he do?

Whenever West decides to take the queen, you can win the other four tricks with the ace and king in your own hand and dummy's jack and ten. If West plays low, you win in dummy with the ten and return to your hand with a club to lead another low diamond. You are then sure to win four diamond tricks.

How will this play work if it turns out that the five diamonds are with East instead of West? You win the first heart and lead a low diamond to the jack, and East wins with the queen. Later, you can win a diamond in dummy with the ten and return a diamond to finesse through the nine. You still make your slam.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold:

♥ K 7
♦ A K 8 3 2
♣ K Q 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two diamonds. The hand is slightly too strong for a jump to 2 NT.

Antarctic Pastures Spawn Much Flora

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The icy seas surrounding the continent of Antarctica spawn so much flora that they abound with a large population of fish, birds, seals and whales, some of which consume more than a ton of food a day, according to the National Geographic Society.

Plant life in Antarctic waters is so thick that visibility is only one-third that of the warm, central Pacific.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Foster Home Program Meeting Next Tuesday

The foster home program in Marin County will be the subject of a county-wide Kiwanis Club meeting next Tuesday noon in Cloud 5, Novato, according to Daniel Aughney of the Novato Kiwanis Club.

Strengthening of the present program for foster homes versus a county home for these children will be the theme of the meeting, Aughney said.

Petition Protests Rezoning Plan In Mill Valley

A petition is being circulated in Mill Valley against rezoning of approximately four acres at Camino Alto and Sycamore Avenue from residential to commercial-recreational.

Reason for protest, according to G. W. Robertson who is circulating the petition, is that under the proposed zoning it would be possible to erect hotels, motels and a bowling alley on the land. The matter comes before the city council Jan. 3 for public hearing.

Among objectors is Rev. G. R. Oaks of the Mill Valley Methodist Church, across Sycamore Avenue from the property. Rev. Oaks says rezoning would destroy protection and benefit to the church of the zoning.

Owners Dave and Palmira Biggio are asking for rezoning. The planning commission has recommended approval.

Green Pastures Down Texas Way

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—A greater portion of the Texas land surface is devoted to pasture for cattle than any other single purpose, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research says.

Texas cattle inhabit more than 100 million acres, some 65 per cent of the entire state.

WAYFARER SEEKING A HOME

Ned Appleby of Mill Valley found this male Boxer dog beside the road between the Meadow Club and Alpine Dam, famished and so weak he could scarcely walk. He took it to the Marin County Humane Society shelter at Third and Mary streets, San Rafael, where manager Mel L. Morse (pictured with dog) said the animal may have been lost so long its owner had ceased searching for it. Morse expressed hope the owner could be found. The dog bore no identification tag. Former Philippine Travel Exec Gets Hallmark Post

Harold Cicerone of Fairfax, a former travel agency executive in the Philippines, has been appointed general sales manager of Hallmark Tours. He was named to coordinate Hallmark's current tour program for the Seattle World Fair next spring, and will also be responsible for the firm's continuing Disneyland program.

Cicerone will divide his time between Hallmark's new offices in San Francisco's financial district and the firm's San Rafael headquarters at 1344 Fourth Street.

WE NOTICE that Arthur Nicolaisen has started his second Ha-Le-Kai condominium cluster at Canal and Sonoma streets, San Rafael, where 20 more occupant - owned apartments will be built. Completion will be in about 90 days when the first unit should be just about sold out.

At that time still another 65-unit project will be started.

JESS J. FRANCE JR., resident manager of York and Co. and newly elected president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, is presenting another "Investing Your Money" course in January and February—this time at the Sir Francis Drake Evening School.

France previously conducted a similar course at the Tamalpais Evening School. First class Jan. 9 is on "Investment Foundations."

JOHN WOODSON, president of Woodson Realty Co., Inc., San Rafael, has received word from the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers that he has passed "Real Estate Appraisal Two" which he took last September at the University of Santa Clara. This carries credit toward the M. A. I. designation Woodson is seeking.

RECENTLY joining the loan department staff of Marin County Savings and Loan Association, San Rafael is Herb West of Kentfield. He has been with E. S. Merriman and Sons, San Francisco insurance brokers, and previously was with Travelers Insurance . . . R. Keith Dearth of Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn., San Rafael and Mill Valley, will continue to serve another year as member of the board of directors of the Bay Cities Savings and Loan League.

MOTORCRAFT. Studebaker, now making police cars, looks for increased business in fleet sales to state, mounty and municipal governments. It was recently a successful bidder on 2,000 cars and trucks to the State of California . . . Chevrolet and Ford have accounted for 60 per cent of the truck output this year — split about evenly . . . Boates and Son Motor Sales and Service say business has increased noticeably since moving to 3000 Bridgeway, Sausalito.

RUSSIAN AUTOMATION. Moscow commuters have been traveling on subway trains that run without motormen, according to the Commerce Department's publication "Science and Technology."

"The time is not far away," Soviet transit authorities claim, "when there will not be a single motorman . . . Their places will be taken by television transmitters, controlled from one dispatcher's station."

No one left but passengers and Krushchev.
